The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

The Insurance Rip-off

The Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. notified this newspaper publishing firm that with less than a week's notice it was canceling the workman's compensation insurance on which we had been paying premiums for years.

The short notice did not adequately allow time for a replacement policy but that made no difference to the nationwide insurance firm.

The crass handling of the cancellation only provided further proof that insurance firms need to be placed under stricter operating controls.

The state senator and the district legislator each addressed himself to this newspaper's complaint. The responsible party for the insurance firm blandly explained to them that he was out of town when the decision was reached. He was out of earshot regarding a request for a 30-day stay of execution.

Insurance firms have followed Big Oil's high-handed operations. Both have wangled monopolistic laws which make neither responsive to people who made them rich. And in both cases it is the lowliest wage earner who is hurt the most.

This article will explain how outrageous insurance costs injure the honest, sincere, hardworking citizen who prefers to pay his own medical bills — either direct or through insurance — rather than to become welfare recipients. We'll discuss in a later article the millions of your dollars (present estimate $2.50 a month added to your utility bill beginning this fall) to be given free and clear to ARCO by PUCO just to allow Californians to buy Alaskan gas from them that is being transported over Alaskan transmission lines we're already paying for. Incidentally, the land from which the gas is drawn belongs to the American people.

But back to medical insurance. Malpractice insurance specifically.

A study made last week of 11 medical doctors in Lemon Grove showed their total insurance premiums to be $22,396 in 1974.

This year the rate was increased to $38,912. Higher rates for 1976 will bring the cost to $102,780. That's nearly five times as much as it was last year.

The average charge for an office call in the East County is $12. In light of increased costs of doing business, that fee does not seem unreasonable although it does pass on to middle class, bill paying patients about one-third of MediCal charges (Government limits MediCal office fee to slightly more than $7).

It would take 6,000 additional office calls next year (a physical and professional impossibility) just to offset the added insurance premium. So the cost will be borne by the family which prefers to pay its medical bills out of family income.

While most physicians work long hours, few are poverty-stricken. So this isn't offered to improve their profit picture. It's your health and medical costs — and ours — that concerns us.

If office calls were to be raised five times to match the insurance increase, many of us would wait for an emergency before we could lay $60 a visit on the line.

Health and Medical insurance rates would increase proportionately. Medical care could only be afforded by the rich — probably oil tycoons and insurance barons. The rank and file American would then allow his health to deteriorate to a level lower than it is in most undeveloped nations. As it is now, welfare recipients get the best medical care in America. They can come in as many times as they can get on the doctor's appointment book. The middle class patient suffers. He attempts to buy only the amount of care he can afford — except in emergency. It's disgraceful.

Equally frightening is that a physician who keeps his eye on malpractice threats instead of his patient's needs is being limited professionally. The patient suffers.

Under California's system of controls a ceiling could be put on insurance rates but insurance barons would probably drop medical policies. In such a case families fearing catastrophic ailments would be distressed.

The first step toward solving this dilemma is to demand legislation prescribed by the doctors of the California Medical Assn. Our own study has found their prescription to be a reasonable approach to holding the medical cost line.

Here are the steps:

1. Set a reasonable limit on the amount a lawyer can get from the plaintiff. Legal fees often amount to 50 per cent of the final award. The higher the award, the more the lawyer gets. This situation often leads to outrageous claims.

2. Set a two-year period as the limit for filing a suit. Now lawsuits are sometimes filed 21 years later. Imagine a 30-year old man bringing suit for an alleged malpractice during a tonsilectomy when he was nine.

3. Establish fair limits for awards. Some awardees win as much as 50 times as much as those with less clever attorneys. Cleverness should not be the criteria. Honest and fair claims should be the guide. A reasonable upper limit would avert the great discrepancy.

4. Prompt arbitration should be provided to protect both doctor and patient. Delay and cost of a court trial can be averted in most cases but legislation is needed to make arbitration possible.

5. Weed out incompetent physicians. Expanded powers and scope of the Board of Medical Examiners could do this quickly and effectively. Today, BoME's authority is so cir-

County Grants Mt. Vernon Park Water System

NEWS WEST — A $45,999 contract for installation of an irrigation system, drinking fountain and landscaping for Mt. Vernon Park in Lemon Grove was awarded to a San Marcos firm last week.

The Board of Supervisors tapped the North County firm of Riverside Sprinklers, Inc. as the low bidder of the project.

Mt. Vernon is a five-acre park located at the intersection of Mt. Vernon and Berry streets.

Financing for the park will be reimbursable from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development and the county's park land dedication ordinance.

Woman Dies in Grove Crash

Shirley Blasair, 32, of 7003 Mount Vernon ave., Lemon Grove, died Monday when the auto driven by her son Samuel L. Fish, 16, went out of control at 55 m.p.h and crashed into a utility pole on Massachusetts ave. just north of San Miguel.

Fish and the victim's daughter, Tisha Blasair, 4, both of the same address, were injured. Mrs. Blasair was pronounced dead at College Park hospital at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Blasair is survived by her husband Martin, two other sons, Daniel and David; her father, Warren Budge and her mother, the Rev. Sharon Langley.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Merkley-Mitchell Mortuary.

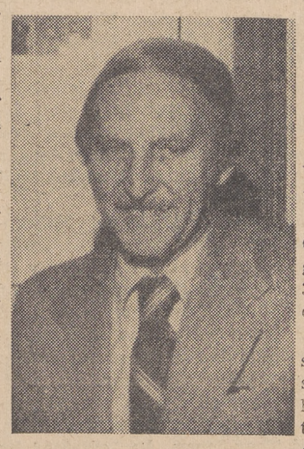
$4,000 Missing From Local Firm

Over a nine-month period, a 31-year old man associated with Southland Music Co., 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, allegedly forged names and illegally wrote checks from the firm's checkbook totaling $4,000, sheriff's deputies were told July 28.

The firm's owners, James Robert Hansen and Tommy Stark, reported that the suspect, not yet apprehended by police, had written the checks over a nine-months period.

Hansen said most of the firm's bookkeeping was done by the suspect but when a missing $200 check was replaced by a customer who later brought in the first one which had been cashed at the bank, an investigation followed.

Meanwhile, the "bookkeeper" has been absent but several improper checks are still being cashed — usually at liquor stores, Hansen said.



NEW HELIX MANAGER — Clarence Watters Jr. assumed duties this week as Helix Water District's General Manager, succeeding Byron Miller who retired Friday. Watters, 50, has been with the water district 25 years and was promoted from Associate General Manager and Chief Engineer. Miller will be retained at his current salary of $31,440 for 16 months as a consultant.

VFW Youth Aid List Grows

The Lemon Grove VFW Youth Program fund is growing — and so is this newspaper's subscription list.

For every new subscription acquired by saleswoman Ruth Fern Houtz, the VFW's youth fund gets fifty cents.

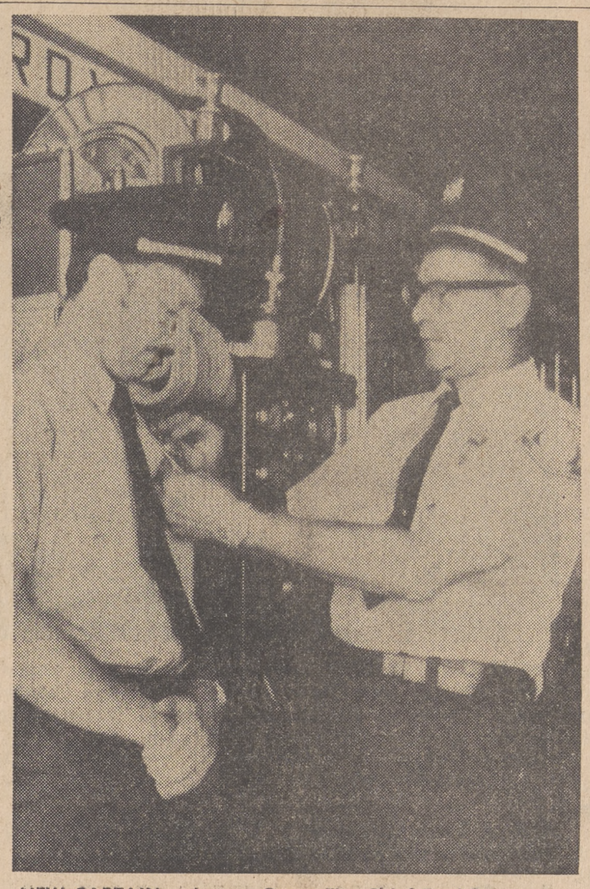
Miss Houtz, a Mt. Miguel student, gets $2 for each subscription she sells. She will use her income for a school project Centennial trip back east this fall.

A list of new subscribers is published each week in this newspaper as a record that the subscriber has made a contribution to the fund.

This week's list:

From Spring Valley:
Betty Keane
Ross Houtz

From Lemon Grove:
Linda Nugent
Byron Ayres
Edward Baker
Mary Baker
William Balsley
Rev. Clayton Beish



NEW CAPTAIN — Lemon Grove Fire Chief Fred Dixon pins a captain's badge onto the uniform of Ed Hayman honoring his permanent appointment as captain of the Fire District. Hayman, who joined the force in 1969, has been serving as captain for a probationary period since January 1 and was recommended for the position by the District's board of directors two weeks ago. Hayman is a recent graduate of the Miramar College Fire Academy, having earned an Associate of Science degree in fire science in June.

Vice Principal McGarvey Retires from Mt. Miguel

A teacher-coach turned administrator at Mt. Miguel retired last week, ending a combined military and education career spanning 46 years.

Richard C. McGarvey, 60, resigned from the Grossmont High School District after summer session ended Friday.

McGarvey first started teaching and coaching basketball in high school in Indiana. He was drafted into the Army in 1941 as a private after developing a potential state championship contender.

He went through the ranks and received a commission as 2nd Lieutenant. He advanced rapidly, rising to the rank of Lt. Colonel when he was released from active duty after four years.

After release, he attended USC and began teaching at Washington Union High in Fresno. A year and a half and one championship team later, he was recalled into the service where he remained until 1964, retiring as a full colonel. Back he went into teaching — this time in the Grossmont District.

The past 11 years, McGarvey has served as teacher, dean and administrative vice-principal at Mt. Miguel.

The McGarveys will remain in Lemon Grove. Mrs. McGarvey is an active real estate agent and Mr. McGarvey a licensed broker. He may enter the real estate field, although his main interests are divided between playing an active role in solar energy development and operating a tree farm on his ranch in Oregon.

Deputy Recalls Evidence; Charges Grove Man in Theft

It wasn't exactly Scotland Yard but there was a miniature resemblance.

Sheriff's Deputy Charles Gouge responded to a burglary report about 5 p.m. July 30 at 8414 Vernier dr., in Lemon Grove.

There, Opal May Hose, a senior citizen, complained that someone had entered the home while she was away and took a round mirror, a gold colored pillow and her vitamin pills. The loss wasn't great but it was a burglary.

Deputy Gouge took the report and recalled that he had seen a gold pillow in an auto recently. He had questioned a youth a few hours earlier —about noon in the 8200 block on Vernier dr. The youth apparently had broken no law so he wasn't detained. Deputy Gouge made the mandatory written report on the contact. On the driver's side of the car was a gold pillow of the type described by Mrs. Hose.

He then went to the home of Gary Lee Fletcher, 19, of 8017 Drexel dr., Lemon Grove. He was the youth Deputy Gouge reported he contacted on Vernier dr. earlier.

Still on the front seat of Fletcher's auto was Mrs. Hose's pillow the officer reported. In a suitcase on the rear seat were found a round mirror and some vitamin pills. They answered the description of the items the victim reported as missing.

Fletcher will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Vandals in House

$300 damage was done to a vacant house belonging to Harry K. Stahl at 8700 Adriana st., in Spring Valley prior to July 16 he told sheriff's deputies.

Miguel Boosters Seek $100,000 Support for Grossmont Athletics

Organization of a sub-committee of the Mt. Miguel High School Boosters Club to raise $100,000 for Grossmont Union High School District recreation and athletic programs was announced Monday night.

The sub-committee's purpose and goals were announced at a meeting of the Board of Education of the high school district. The board adopted a resolution endorsing the program and urging community support.

Appearing before the board were Betty Pengelley and Dr. Robert Sutton, superintendent of the Lemon Grove School District, co-chairmen of the sub-committee. Other members of the committee and boosters club also attended.

As spokesperson, Pengelley told the board of committee plans for a dinner-dance and auction on Nov. 1, with donated services and merchandise to be sold to the highest bidders.

Dr. Robert Sutton

Profits for Pool

"This year a major part of the profits would be earmarked for increasing the Mt. Miguel swimming pool funds and a smaller portion would be allocated to other high schools in the district," Mrs. Pengelley said.

"We hope this will prove so popular and successful that it becomes an annual event to fill future needs in all the schools in areas where normal educatioinal financing is insufficient."

Mrs. Betty Pengelley

Mrs. Pengelley, a Spring Valley resident who has long been active in League of Women Voters and committees in the school district, added that donations to the auction and for the dinner-dance would be deductible for income tax purposes.

Voluntary Tax

"This is a form of voluntary tax assesment to lessen the bite the County Assessor must take for education and recreation purposes when such programs and facilities are provided for by property taxes," she said.

Also appearing before the board was Dr. Robert Pyle, principal of Mt. Miguel High School, who emphasized the benefits the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area would derive if a pool were constructed on the campus.

Dr. Pyle said the area is changing from a rural to a suburban community and from a "all white homogeneous neighborhood to a heterogeneous racial-ethnic mix." A swimming pool would help reduce the tensions other areas have experienced during such transitions and would give the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area a stronger community identity, he added.

Mrs. Pengelley and Dr. Sutton said other details regarding the sub-committee's organization status and planning will be announced at a later date.

Last School Budget Hearing Held Tonight

A final chance for public input regarding the Lemon Grove School District's annual budget is on the agenda of tonight's Board of Trustee's meeting held at the District's Education Center.

Meeting is called to order at 7:30 p.m. at the Center located on the corner of Lincoln and Kempf sts.

Plane Totaled But Pilot, 5 Riders Survive

A Lemon Grove pilot and five passengers are out of the hospital and doing fine following minor injuries suffered when their single-engine plane crashed July 26 after take-off from Hesperia Airport near Victorville.

The craft, piloted by Aubrey Huskey, 31, of 2618 Glebe rd., lost power and crashed into a high ridge of hills at 11 p.m., Victorville sheriff's office reported.

Huskey reported that he and his five passengers are all doing well. Huskey and William Howden, 24, of San Diego were taken to Grossmont Hospital following the accident.

Treated and released at Victor Valley Hospital were Linne Hedstrom, 60, of Lemon Grove; Philip Whitten of Santee and two juveniles from San Diego, Kenneth Ebert and Jim Gray.

The plane was totalled in the crash, Huskey reported.

$800 Gun Stolen

Hezikiah Thompson, of 2855 Crane st. in Lemon Grove, told sheriff's deputies on July 29 someone entered his home during his absence and took a "Chicon" 7.62 mm semi-automatic pistol from a gun case.

Thompson said the gun was taken during the three previous weeks and was worth $800.

Grove Man Among First To Earn a Degree From S.D.'s Newest University

A new concept in higher education, described as career development, is beginning to have a profound effect on San Diegans.

Among more than a thousand people is a Lemon Grove man, Patrick H. Chambers, assistant director of the respiratory therapy and cardiology department at Grossmont Hospital. Chambers, with his wife and their three youngsters, lives at 8318 Robbie way.

It is the story of a perfect matings of mature students in a professional field and a university which could provide him — and thousands of others — with a carefully accelerated program of personal and professional growth.

The learning facility is National University at 4141 Camino del Rio South which offers degree programs in Business Administration, Public Administration and Health Services Management.

Chambers was one of the first in the Spring of this year, to be graduated from the university. He was staff in the Respiratory Therapy and cardiology department at Grossmont when he entered National to earn his bachelor's degree in business administration. He now is assistant of the department over a staff of 20.

Average, Mid-30s

Such is the story of many of the students. The average National U. student is in the mid-30's, self-employed or professionally occupied, with too little time to attend an all-day, nine-month college. At National U. the stern classroom regemin is missing. Students are regarded as experienced and competent adults so classes are conducted in an executive, conference-room atmosphere. Men and women participate in a completely open, dynamic exchange of ideas among professors and students in a seminar format.

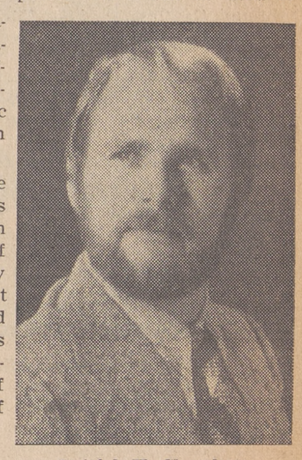
Students register only once for an entire academic program of sequential courses leading to a degree. Missing is the confusion associated with conventional colleges where the student is involved in several courses over a longer period. What students learned last week is often a perplexity as they attend one of several classes they attended a week ago. Not so at National.

Classes Limited

Classes are limited to 30 with the group moving through a single course together. Valuable contacts and lifetime friendships result from this arrangement.

Chambers, with his broader view of the business aspects of his profession became involved in a training program in his field at Grossmont hospital.

"Time and cost studies indicated man-hours could be reduced in many aspects of respiratory therapy. There has come on the market new and costly equipment, such as mass spectrometers and computers which can be used to reduce labor costs. Many persons in the profession had given thought to a bachelor's course that would not only build confidence in those in the profession but would permit in-house teaching."



Patrick H. Chambers

So Chambers re-enrolled at National in a master's program. "With costs rising so alarmingly in health service management it has become vital that there is no waste time nor effort in attending patients," he said.

Problems to Solve

The California Hospital Commission believed his philosophy was a valid approach to a growing problem. So the Commission appointed him to formulate guidelines in health service management. He will work at the guidelines as he works for his master's degree in health services managment. "Basically, it's the need for making one unit of charge comparable to another unit.

EPIC Help Center Awarded State Recognition as Corp.

EPIC, Inc., a group of Lemon Grove volunteers who broke from Fred Anderson's Crisis House to form their own community service facility, has received State recognition as a non-profit, corporation. The crisis intervention program began earlier this year by installing a 24-hour hotline service with trained staff prepared to assist anyone in crisis situations.

EPIC — Effective Problem Intervention Center — is an on-going project whose present services include emergency transportation, food distribution, crisis counseling and inter-agency referrals.

The group has become affiliated with the Heartland Youth Services branch of the Heartland Human Relations Association which also operates the Lemon Grove Recreation Center located at the United Church of Christ on Glebe rd. in Lemon Grove.

While the community group searches the area for an office location, more volunteers are needed to maintain the 24 hr. hotline and to provide office work and on-site counseling when facilities are obtaind.

Hotline number is 462-EPIC.

Thus far EPIC has been maintained by local fund-raising events such as swap meets and garage sales.

The organization, while awaiting a decision on county funding, is seeking charitable donations in cash or sellable items. Board Chairman Ray Heiserman is the contact for donations at 466-1034.

Butchers Impressed With Largest State

"Having a wonderful time in a great state," reports Pastor Orval and wife Gwen Butcher who recently sent a message to their Skyline Wesleyan Church congregation from Alaska.

The pastor is impressed with the beauty and expanse of the largest state.

"If we were to stay a year and saw one million acres a day, there would be still more land to see," Pastor Butcher said.

The couple promises to share the sights of the three-week trip with the congregation. They were expected Wednesday.

Community Tapped for Grossmont College Marching Band

Former high school and college musicians who enjoy the excitement of college level football and basketball, are invited to get their iip back in shape and join the Grossmont Varsity Band. The varsity band needs brass and saxophone players and is looking to the adult community to fill these vacancies.

Former band members will join with regularly enrolled students in forming a varsity band that will represent Grossmont College at all football and basketball games during the 1975-76 season.

Weekly rehearsals are in the evening at Grossmont College. Musicians should contact the Department of Music Office or attend a meeting at 7 p.m. tonight in Room 221, Fine Arts Building at the college

Alcohol Learn Center Opens

The new Community Learning Resource Center on Alcoholism for San Diego County is now open.

The learning center is in the office of the San Diego National Council on Alcoholism, 1371 Sixth ave.

Included in the center are some 250 resource materials on all phases of alcohol use and abuse. Films, film strips, books and periodicals are available for public use.

It is the only centralized area for materials dealing with the leading health problem in the country. More than 9 million persons in the United States are alcoholics and affect the lives of an estimated 36 million other persons (family members, friends, business associates, etc.). Locally, it is estimated that at least 92,000 San Diegans suffer from the disease of alcoholism.

The center is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. weekdays. Materials are available for loan to anyone interested. The center's telephone is 234-7381.

The learning center is made possible by funds granted through the County of San Diego, Department of Substance Abuse.

Blind Guitarist Sings At Miguel Church Sun.

Blind singer and guitarist Bob Reeves, accompanied by his wife on the piano, will provide special music at the evening service at Mt. Miguel Covenant Church.

The 6 p.m. service is planned in the amphitheatre adjacent to the church, weather permitting.

Youth Pastor Dave Boyd will deliver the message at the service.

Morning worship service is at 10:30 a.m. Pastor Clarence Agard's sermon will be "The Priority of God's Word." Sunday school meets at 9 a.m.

The church is located at the corner of Kempton and Akard sts. in Spring Valley.

Bill Would Convert RR In Rec. Roads

Working its way through the Senate is a bill which would fund a nationwide project to convert over 50,000 miles of abandoned railroad lines to recreational use.

Environmentalists have suggested that the unused lines would be excellent for bike trails or access roads to hunting, fishing or camping locations.

Free Opera Debuts Monday in Park

Professional outdoor opera comes to San Diego Monday as Guiseppi Verdi's opera "La Traviata" opens at the Organ Pavilion at 8 p.m. in Balboa Park.

Additional performances will be given on Wednesday and Friday. Admission to all performances is free.

SMALL TOWN BUILDERS — Fifth and sixth graders at San Altos School busily put finishing touches on their miniature city El Pueblo Perfecto, a study in community planning conducted by teacher Mrs. Zoanne Bisson. Students layed plans for the small city, earned play money in school work and "bought property" in the town. This summer's class worked more independently than others, Mrs. Bisson commented. She has supervised similar projects at the school the past two summers.

Student-Built 'El Pueblo Perfecto' Is San Altos Class' Model Town

By John Kowalczyk

The County Planning Commission could have learned a valuable lesson last week by walking into room 16 at San Altos School in Lemon Grove.

Inside, sprawling over 190 square feet of floor space, was a miniature city plotted, landscaped and developed with precision planning by the fifth and sixth graders in Mrs. Zoanne Bisson's class.

The town was named El Pueblo Perfecto, after the students' wishes for the perfect city — one that is free from pollution, quiet and comfortable.

The six-week project not only involved the careful community planning of the students, but was also financed by them based on the good ol' free enterprise system.

Free Enterprise

Students were each doled out $100 to begin the project — play money, of course — and given the opportunity to accrue their wealth through successful participation in classwork and at their "jobs" in the town.

Planning the terrain was the first step in the industrious undertaking. After discussing the merits of a variety of land areas, from mountains to plains, the class decided on the subtle rolling hills and flat lands that characterize their home town.

They spent the first week of class molding the papier-mache topography sprawled over the 19 by 10 foot surface and closed the room to allow the "land" to set.

Homes Built

While they waited, Mrs. Bisson put the class to work on their homes. Built at 1/48 scale, over twice the size of the town layout, the homes were planned, layed out and built to scale using construction paper, paint and anything else that the students could scrounge for realism. Materials were bought and sold free-market style, making some industrious students wealthy.

Undisputed rich guy was Doug Wills, sixth grader who earned $500 by selling a supply of carpet remnants which he persuaded Weedman's Carpeting to collect and donate from its back shop.

Wanda Key and other girls in the class gained riches by peddling scraps of material used for drapery and wallpaper in the homes.

Money, incidentally, was professionally handled by the class banking system which involved working checking and savings accounts. Students earned a tempting $1 interest for each $10 stashed in the bank for a week. Sample checks were donated from Southern Cal. 1st National's Lemon Grove branch.

The City Builds

Next step was to build the tiny town. After lessons in Ecology, pupils decided to build a model community virtually free of visual and noise pollution. Telephone lines and electrical power were imagined to be built underground. No billboards were allowed. The town factory even required special pollution abatement attachments on the smokestacks.

Lots were bought or rented on a graduated scale. Luxury life in the hills would cost as much as $100 a week, while apartment dwellers paid $35 for their abodes. Most students opted for a modest private residential home — $60 a week.

Scaled down models of the larger homes were built and placed in the plots of land afforded by each of the 36 "residents." Although scaling was less of a problem this year than in past projects, the class was dismayed to find out that their cars were too large to fit inside their garages.

Wealthy Doug Wills chose a modest site for his house overlooking the fire station he built for the town, rather than live in the plush hills.

Mrs. Bisson has been leading summer classes in town building for three years. The exercise, she says, is always stimulating for the children and this year's class has been particularly enthused, having worked more independently on their project than other classes.

Last week, the final days of school, the proud community builders painted on the finishing touches to the El Pueblo Perfecto, the perfect town. Friday, the "townspeople" convened to evaluate the project and to scissor up each plot of land. The town, like the summer school session, had come to an end.

Free Opera Debuts Monday in Park

Professional outdoor opera comes to San Diego Monday as Guiseppi Verdi's opera "La Traviata" opens at the Organ Pavilion at 8 p.m. in Balboa Park.

Additional performances will be given on Wednesday and Friday. Admission to all performances is free.

Workshop at USD To Feature Duo On Violin, Cello

Alice and Eleonore Schoenfeld, violin-cello duo, performs August 29 at the University of San Diego in conjunction with a Chamber Music Workshop scheduled August 29-31 at USD.

The duo recital, presented by the University of San Diego Conference Center and Department of Music, begins at 8 p.m. in Founders Hall Chapel.

Alice and Eleonore Schoenfeld are currently faculty members at the University of Southern California School of Music. They have concertized individually and as a violin-cello duo in the music centers of three continents.

Recital tickets are $3 general public and $1.50 students. They may be obtained by phone (291-6480, ext. 221) or at the box office the night of the performance.

Grove Youth Center Keeps Kids Active

The Lemon Grove Recreation Center, operated under the auspices of the Heartland Human Relations Association and Heartland Youth Services, is providing free recreational programs to all youth between the ages of 9-14 in the Lemon Grove area.

The Center is open during the summer from 12:30 to 3 p.m., Tuesdays through Fridays, and offers a subsidized milk program to youngsters at lunch time and a full two hour recreational program thereafter. Activities include sports, bicycle events like Motocross, athletic tournament days, arts and crafts, field trips, and special events. The Center is staffed by an experienced staff and a volunteer training program is now underway.

Parents and other interested persons are needed in the volunteer pool for regular staffing as well as to provide specialized skills in crafts, children's drama and sports. Persons interested in volunteering should go to the Center between 12:30-3 p.m. and meet with the co-ordinator.

Children may come at any time or for any portion of it.

Social Security Aid Provided for Senior Citizens

Senior citizen visitors to Central Federal S&L Assn.'s College Grove office are discovering details on the latest in local, state and federal programs for older Americans.

Manager Salley DeLong and her staff are accepting advance orders for the free, revised edition of the Central Federal "Senior Citizens Directory" as well as queries on the new direct deposit of social seurity program.

Mrs. DeLong said that the automatic federal program enables social security recipients to have their allotments placed directly into a Central Federal account.

"The new procedure developed by the Social Security Administration," she added, "provides both the assurance of automatic fund deposit and the advantage of an additional on-going monthly savings plan."

Directory Updated

Seniors checking with the shopping center office for direct deposit authorization forms and counseling will also be invited to sign up for a copy of the up-to-date and enlarged "Senior Citizens Directory."

Expected to be available in the office during mid-August, the 200-page book provides retired east county residents with details of area clubs, health facilities, educational opportunities, spiritual centers and senior discounts.

First published by Central Federal as a public service in 1972, the bound publication will now feature a new four-color floral cover design and easy-to-read details on regional senior enrichment activities.

Specifics include information on the east county Volunteer Bureau-Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), currently working in the local Central Federal from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesdays to help seniors file for California property tax assistance.

L.A. Focal Point of Foreign Activities Marking Bicentennial

The nation's largest Bicentennial event involving foreign nations will take place in Los Angeles June 19 through September 19, 1976.

It is Pacific 21, an exhibition and festival to be staged in the format of a world's fair. It will run 93 days from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and is expected to attract more than three million visitors.

More than 30 Pacific-rim nations have been invited. So far ten have indicated they will participate — the Philippines, the Republic of China, the Repubic of Korea, Tahiti, Indonesia, Thailand, Chile, Peru, Ecuador and Colombia.

Pacific 21 will be held in Century City, a modern urban development. Events will be held in three areas, Festival Plaza, Horizons Pavilion and Heritage Park.

The pavilion and park will feature colorful exhibits from participating nations that will show their cultures and development, plus their plans for the role they will play in the 21st century.

Festival Plaza will feature continuous live entertainment — including groups from participating nations and from participating American Pacific states and Canadian provinces.

Pacific 21 has the endorsement of the U. S. American Revolution Bicentennial Administration and it is the only endorsed event involving foreign participation.

Grossmont District Gears For Overflow Classrooms

Classrooms of the nine comprehensive high schools of Grossmont District are expected to be filled to overflowing September 10 when school begins for more than 21,000 students.

Registration for most students will be September 2 through 5. Registration packets will be mailed to all returning students in mid-August; new students should enroll, in most schools, during the week of August 25 at the school in their attendance zone.

Monte Vista, however, will not go through early programming for freshmen. Their programs will be given to them on the first day of school.

Transportation is provided for students living 2½ miles or more from school.

Registration schedule at Mt. Miguel High is as follows: seniors, September 2, 8 to 10 a.m.; juniors, September 3, 10:30 to 12:30; sophomores, September 4, 7:30 to 10:30; freshmen, September 5, 8 to 11 a.m.

At Monte Vista: seniors, September 3, 8:30 to 9:45; juniors, September 3, noon to 1:15 p.m.; sophomores, September 4, 8 to 9:15 a.m.

At Helix High: seniors, September 2, noon to 4 p.m.; juniors, September 3, 7:45 to 11:45 a.m.; sophomores, September 3, 12:45 to 4 p.m.; freshmen, 7:45 to 12:30.

Irwin Son Earns BA In Biblical Studies

William graduated with a BA, majoring in Biblical studies.

More Protein in Ground Beef Than Chuck, ADA Finds

There is more protein per penny in ground beef than in ground chuck. Comparisons of cost per pound of protein show that ground beef provides more protein for your food dollar, according to a recent study reported in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association.

The study found that ground beef is the better and cheaper buy when evaluating overall cost of raw and cooked meats and protein costs.

Ground chuck, according to the article, costs an average of 18 cents more per pound than ground beef. The researchers compared cooking losses and costs and determined the fat, moisture and protein content of both ground beef and ground chuck.

The study also noted that ground meats vary within a store. Researchers found that a superior quality of beef found in a given store does not necessarily indicate the same store also carries a superior quality of ground chuck.

Evans Quilt Collection To Appear at Gallery

An exhibition of Pennsylvania quilts will open August 16 at the Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego, Balboa Park, and remain on view through September 28. The exhibition, consisting of 35 quilts from the Grete Holst Evans Collection, is being circulated by the International Exhibition Foundation, Washington, D.C.

The quilts in the Grete Holst Collection were all purchased in Pennsylvania and those in the exhibition were chosen for their historic association, distinction of technique, brilliant color and varied designs. Examples of the patterns used in patchwork and applique during the 18th and 19th centuries, including the "Log Cabin" design, the "Baby's Blocks" pattern, the "Tulip" pattern, and the popular "Rose of Sharon," are among those to be shown.

Date to 1600's

Quilts were brought to America in the 17th century by Dutch, English and French settlers. Basically, they consist of three layers which are fastened together with an all-over pattern of running stitches called "quilting."

American women first made quilts with left-over bits and pieces of imported material for the practical purpose of keeping warm. The pieces were organized in various geometric patterns making the "patchwork" or "pieced" quilt top. When fabrics such as calico and muslin began to be manufactured in America, cloth became more plentiful and cheaper to buy. Women were then able to make "applique" quilts — small pieces of colorful fabric sewn onto a larged top layer of cloth in a pattern.

Gradually, sewing techniques and patterns on the quilts became more sophisticated. They were shaped by individual imagination and influenced by contemporary tastes and fashions. Particular designs were given names which were changed in each location; some designs were related to politics, others to religious subjects, such as the "Rose of Sharon."

Dowry Items

The making of quilts soon became a social occasion in colonial America known as the "quilting bee." Women would gather together to help make a quilt for a new minister's wife or for an engaged girl who, in some places, was required to have 12 or 13 quilts as a type of dowry when she married.

The exhibit will be on view during the regular Gallery hours which are Tuesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 12:30 to 5 p.m. There is no charge for admission.

Great Economy

If the nine states west of the Rockies were to be separated economically from the rest of the U.S., they would rank as the sixth most powerful economy in the world.

Starlight Panned

Even Aircraft Can't Spoil 'Dolly's' Run

By John Kowalczyk

Hello Dolly is playing at Balboa Park Bowl through Sunday. The bright, warm musical is Starlight Theatre's second of three productions for its 30th anniversary season.

Probably the highlight of this summer under the stars, "Dolly" opened to capacity crowds last week. The peppy yarn about a turn-of-the-century matchmaker is, from several standpoints, an entertainment success.

Aside from the occasional showstopping fly-by of commercial craft landing at nearby Lindbergh Field — yet another justification for the controversial airport's demise —the only obstacle to the performance's impact is Dolly herself.

Not a Streisand

With the likes of Barbra Streisand and Carol Channing having taken on the domineering character, Starlight's Connie Reed—albeit a talent with commendable local following —leaves much to be desired as Dolly Levi.

Her lack of energy in the role makes Dolly's influence on the supporting characters a bit hard to swallow.

Also, the technical staff will hate me but whoever thought of the idea of a clip-on remote mike for Dolly should be sentenced to four performances strapped to one of the theatre's loudspeakers. Some of her lines, especially when her head bows toward her cleavage where the mike is "hidden", come off as loud and as irritating as some of the jets overhead.

Divorce Rate

The 1974 divorce rate was 4.6 per 1,000 population, according to the National Center for Health Statistics.

On the bright side — and most of the news about this production is bright—is the supporting couple played by Michael Milton and Leslie Goldstein. Milton does comical justice to the role of country-bumpkin Cornelius Hackle who meets the love of his life during a daring day-off in New York City.

His one and only, Irene Molloy, is played by show-stealing Miss Goldstein whose singing voice clearly upstages Dolly's. She is in the middle of her second year with Starlight, having won the theatre's Star Award for her performance in last season's Camelot.

Milton is a voice performance major at San Diego State who comes to the open-air theater for the first time this year and with a list of notable credentials, among them the lead role in a Bay Area Godspell production.

Other Pluses

Definite pluses are the chorus and waiters whose singing and dancing blend for many rousing musical numbers.

Other advise: Check out the sets and the backdrops artfully coordinated by Tad Anheier. Also, keep your eye on Rudolph the head waiter, a minor role handled comically by James Marshall.

All in all, Dolly is a delightful way to spend a summer evening. I might add that the new "freeze" policy initiated by the theatre this year, prevents drowning of spots by passing aircraft. A coded light cue tells the performers and orchestra when to freeze while the noisy planes fly over.

Final Starlight '75 offering is "Brigadoon," which opens for an eight-performance run August 21.

Help Wanted: Two Orchestra Conductors

Wanted: two conductors for 85-piece orchestras composed entirely of students in San Diego County schools.

Orchestra I, which contains senior high and college students, actually needs a combination conductor and music director. Elementary and junior high students belong to Orchestra II, which needs only a conductor.

The orchestras rehearse weekly throughout the school year at Grossmont College. Recent performances of some of the world's most demanding symphonic literature have been given by the groups in the Civic Theater, Redlands Bowl, and Sherwood Hall.

Interested persons should write to the Civic Youth Orchestra, Inc., Conductor Search Committee, 2125 Evergreen st., San Diego 92106 for a job description. Civic Youth Orchestra, Inc. is an equal opportunity employer.

Final selection of the conductors is scheduled to be made before September 1.

Bill Irwin Recital

Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave. in Lemon Grove will present nationally-known organist Bill Irwin in a concert on the new Rodgers Marquee Theatre Organ on Saturday, August 9 at 8 p.m.

Bill Irwin has traveled throughout the USA and Canada presenting pop concerts. His technique, modern harmonies, unique interpretations and personality has captured audiences of all ages. He has performed on television and radio; appeared in night clubs and motion pictures and played theatre pipe organs. He has two LP's to his credit as well.

Prior to Irwin's concert the evening of the 9th, he will conduct an all-day organ workshop which is open to the public. Registration for the workshop begins at 9:30 a.m. The workshop is at 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Southland Music Center may be contacted at 463-0308 for reservations. Tickets are available at the box office, by mail or by phone.

United Way Moves

United Way of San Diego County has moved its headquarters site to 7510 Clairemont Mesa blvd., in the Kearny Mesa area.

The organization, which serves as the central planning and funding organization for 90 constituent human care agencies throughout the county, is leaving its downtown location at 1196 Broadway after 13 years.

New phone number is 292-4455.

This Week's RECIPE

Quick Casserole is Editor's Delight

It's no secret to the homemaker that a good way to stretch the family food dollars is to serve a single-course casserole dish. The thrifty meal plan is also no surprise to the bachelor gastronome, or so says John Kowalczyk, nutrition conscious news editor of this newspaper.

Last week, the strictly amateur gourmet cooked up from scratch a quick and easy tuna dish that serves six hungry family members — or provides a week of hefty servings for the swinging single. Bachelor kitchen cook books and some appetite-conscious ingenuity entered into the creation of this quick-fix concoction.

Local markets sell the ingredients for less than $2.50 which figures out to less than 40 cents per hearty serving. Now that's thrift !

QUICK TUNA CASSEROLE

2 (7½ oz.) cans tuna fish
1 (16 oz.) package thin egg noodles
1 can green peas
1 (10 3/4 oz.) can cream of celery soup
1 (10 3/4 oz.) can cream of mushroom soup
¼ lb. Swiss cheese
garlic powder
salt and pepper
parsley flakes or leaves

Cook 3/4 to all noodles per package instructions.

Drain and rinse noodles in a colander and pour one third of contents into casserole dish. Spread evenly to cover bottom surface. Spoon on the undiluted cream of celery soup and spread over noodles. Form a layer of peas using half of the drained contents. Spread one can of tuna over the peas. Using half of remainder, add a second layer of noodles ,followed by the cream of mushroom soup and the rest of the peas. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and just a touch of garlic powder. Spread the second can of tuna over the layers and pour the rest of the noodles over it. Grate cheese and sprinkle over noodles. Sprinkle with a generous portion of bread crumbs and accent with a touch of parsley flakes or leaves, just for color.

Cover dish and place in oven for one to two hours. Remove cover, turn up heat to 400°F and cook an additional 5 minutes to brown surface. Serve at once or cool and freeze in separate portions wrapped in foil tins which can easily be reheated.

Shark Attack Film Booked at Museum

"The Attack Patterns of Sharks", a film showing this weekend at the Natural History Museum, investigates the work of Cornell University Zoologist Professor Perry Gilbert and documents recent research on the relationship of sight to shark's hunter-killer pattern of feeding. The film also reveals recent developments in shark repellant research.

The film is shown at 1:30 and 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

There is no charge for the films over the general 75 cents museum admission fee.

To spend is human, to save is divine.

We all know how hard it is to fight temptation and save our money.

But when you buy United States Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, the fight is over.

Every payday, a little something is taken out to buy Bonds. What could be easier?

Before you know it, you're sitting on a nest egg for all those "human" things that always come along. Like education, retirement or that dream vacation.

The Payroll Savings Plan. It's temptation-proof.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4½% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

G. Luce Heads Charger-49ers Charity Group

Gordon C. Luce, a San Diego civic leader and president of San Diego Federal S&L Assn., has been named honorary chairman of the San Diego Chargers-San Francisco 49ers Youth Benefit Game, in San Diego, Thursday, August 21, sponsored by The Leadership Club of San Diego.

The San Diego Chargers will donate $1 of each ticket sold for the game, up to 30,000, and $2 for each ticket above 30,000, to four youth organizations in the San Diego area: Big Brothers of San Diego, Girls Club of San Diego, Boys Clubs of San Diego, and the Neighborhood House Association. The four youth groups will share in the Chargers' donation.

Stadium Game

The game will be played at San Diego Stadium, with kick-off scheduled at 8 p.m., August 21. Announcement of Luce's appointment as honorary chairman of the Youth Benefit Game was made by James D. Richwine, president of The Leadership Club, a group of 150 young men and women from the San Diego area dedicated to developing strong support for youth programs throughout the County.

Luce said that if the stadium were to be sold out for the game, the Chargers' total donation to The Leadership Club for the four organizations would amount to $70,000. He urged wide support in the San Diego community, among both individuals and organizations, for The Leadership Club's efforts in selling tickets or the game.

Richwine said tickets are available from the San Diego Chargers or at the Chargers' regular ticket outlets. Ticket prices range from $7-$13.

25¢ Beer – and Volleyball at Arena Tonight

Tonight at the Sports Arena, the Suwara mentored sextet collide with the Santa Barbara Spikers in what could be a decisive match for the IVA lead.

The Spikers are directed by All-World MVP, Stanislaw Gosciniak, the league's top assist artist. To date, Santa Barbara has a 9-8 season posting. They met Los Angeles last Friday and Saturday and were beaten in both outings.

Thursday will also be 25 cent Beer Night Part II. Those 16-ounce cups of brew will again be on hand at the San Diego Sports Arena. For Breaker fans, its "an offer they can't refuse!"

25 Cent Beer Popular

The last time the Breakers featured a 25 cent Beer Night at the Arena, it was during a game against the Spikers. An orderly crowd of 5,276 witnessed the Spikers trip the localites 3-1.

Head Coach Rudy Suwara said, "This time around, the Breakers won't let their fans down on Beer Night. It's a 'must' match. We have it completely together now and will give San Diego the winners they want."

Breakers General Manager, Sandy Geuss anticipates between 6-7 thousand in attendance that night.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Dave Winfield is in the driver's seat and enjoying it immensely. The San Diego Padres' flame-throwing right fielder and right handed power hitter has never played in the minors. He was born to be a star.

You will remember Winfield was the first player taken in the '73 free agent draft and jumped directly to the Padres from the Minnesota campus.

The idea was for Dave to get the feel of the major leagues in the summer of '73 and then send him out for seasoning during the '74 campaign.

Those were Padre's plans, but not Winfield's. He gave up a final year of "Big Ten" cage competition, at the "suggestion" of the Padre's front office, and geared his thinking to baseball.

"I tried to get him back," says Bill Musselman, Winfield's coach at Minnesota and new mentor of the ABA San Diego Sails.

"The Pro-amateur rule was in effect and he could have played his senior year. He's strong, aggressive and a tough defender. And he can go to the boards. He was just what we needed. I really tried to get him back."

But Dave was listening to the beat of baseball. He wanted to prove he belonged in the majors. Basketball was momentarily set aside.

David Mark Winfield has greatly aided the fortunes of the San Diego baseball club. It's only as he, and the other young stars of club, mature to the game that the Padres climb the ladder of success.

Last year the Padres drew a million fans. A mark of achievement, but one already passed this early August.

And who would believe that after losing 102 games last year, these very same Padres would be in a battle with the Giants and Dodgers for second place in the National West in the late stages of the '75 campaign?

And if they can pull that off, what about next year? Hell man, it could be a pennant. It could be Padre Bliss in '76.

And all of that comes as no surprise to Bill Musselman. He figured anywhere Dave Winfield went was going to win championships in short order.

"Dave Winfield," he judges, "is the best all around athlete in the country. If he were to enter that Super-Star Tournament, he'd win it hands down." (Coming out of college Winfield was drafted, in addition to the Padres, by the Atlanta Hawks of the NBA, Utah Stars of the ABA, and Minnesota Vikings of the NFL, even though he played no football past high school.)

Musselman is pretty much of a doer himself. He directed Minnesota to a Big Ten cage title his first year at the Gopher helm, and that was the first outright cage championship Minnesota collected in 53 years.

In ten years as a college coach, Musselman's teams have gone to post season national tourneys seven times. His career coaching mark stands at 198 wins and 62 losses and he is the youngest coach in either pro league.

Ask him what the Sails need and he says, 'A tough, aggressive forward who can play defense and go to the boards."

Sounds like Dave Winfield. Could he play in the ABA?

"There is no doubt in my mind Dave Winfield can play professional basketball," says Musselman without hesitation, "He can do it all."

Will Musselman offer Winfield a chance to make his Sails squad this fall?

"We'll have to wait and see what Dave wants to do after the baseball season is over," said Musselman.

Winfield is probably earning around $30,000 playing for the Padres this season. Clubs want to keep such things secret and for some reason, players let them.

Average salaries are up around $60,000 in the ABA, where playing pay talk is more public. Winfield could come close to doubling his summer income with a little indoor work this winter if he should go for the two play-for-pay careers.

He wouldn't be the first to do so. Ron Reed did it. And Dave DeBusschere. Even Chuck "The Rifleman" Connors.

"All I'm thinking about right now is baseball," says Winfield behind a broad grin. "I'm not even going to think about basketball until October."

And it just so happens that is when the ABA campaign gets underway.

Grid Foundation Slates Gold, Dinner, Election

The National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame's San Diego Chapter will kick off its membership drive and elect new officers on August 14, at a golf day and dinner, it was announced here by club President Bill Mast.

A shotgun 1 p.m. start is slated at the Carlton Oaks Country Club, Santee.

Cost is $15 a person including green fees, cart and dinner, Mast said.

Members, guest and others interested in fostering student scholastic achievement, good citizenship and amateur football, are invited to participate, the football foundation's officer explained.

Many Hall of Fame members have been invited, with several expected to attend, Mast said,

According to Mast, the organization will also formulate plans for the upcoming high school and college football season.

Reservations may be made at 262-0861.

3 Preseason Games Booked By Mariners

A three-game exhibition schedule against a pair of Western Division opponents will be a prelude to the 1975-76 World Hockey Assn. season by the San Diego Mariners.

The Mariners, second place finishers in the WHA's Western sector last year, open exhibition play with a September 28 game against Phoenix at the San Diego Sports Arena. The Sunday match will begin at 4 p.m.

San Diego then meets the Denver Spurs, Thursday, October 2, in a 7:30 p.m. Sports Arena faceoff and concludes with an October 5 trip to Tucson, for a rematch with Phoenix.

Phoenix ended in fourth place behind Houston, San Diego and Minnesota last season after holding second spot until the final week of competition.

Denver is making its maiden voyage in the WHA after the Chicago franchise was shifted to the Colorado city.

Both Sports Arena exhibitions are free to season ticket holders and there is a $1 reduction on all prices for other ticket purchasers. Exhibition prices are $6.50, $5.50, $4.50, $3.50 and $2.50.

San Diego, which won nine and tied one in its last 11 showings to vault into second place last year, begins its 80-game regular season schedule October 10.

Chargers Schedule 1975

The San Diego Chargers open preseason play here Saturday.

The official schedule of the Chargers, released this week, looks like this:

Bears Open Chargers Preseason Sunday at 8

Tommy-guns prepare to fire!

Coach Tommy Prothro's 1975 San Diego Chargers make their preseason debut against the Chicago Bears at San Diego Stadium Saturday night.

Kickoff is 8 p.m.

With a potentially strong offense led by running back Don Woods and a refurbished defense, the Chargers appear to be much improved this season. Only four new players have cracked the starting lineup for Saturday night.

New center Ed Flanagan is an 11-year veteran from Deteroit. Rookie starters are free agent wide receiver Dwight McDonald, the 86-catch, O-draft upstart from San Diego State; mammoth defensive tackle Louie Kelcher (6-5, 295) from SMU, and cornerback Mike Williams, No. 1 draft choice from LSU.

Chicago has a new head coach, Jack Pardee, and hopes for an improved offense in 1975.

The Bears bolstered their running attack by drafting touted Walter Payton from Jackson State and acquiring Cid Edwards from the Chargers. Bears' rookie Virgil Livers showed the nation his punt return speed by dashing 88 yards against the Steelers in the College All-Star game.

Radio-TV

Andy Musser and Dick Van Raaphorst will broadcast the game on KSDO (1130) and the Charger network. Mike Smith and Dave Campbell announce the KCST-39 tape replay telecast Sunday at 5 p.m. Brent Musberger and Bill George are the Chicago television talent.

San Diego leads the NFL series, 2-0, and won the only previous preseason game. In the last game between the teams on Dec. 8, 1974, the Chargers won, 28-21, on the passing of Jesse Freitas to Harrison Davis.

Coach Prothro explained how he plans to approach the 1975 preseason games as compared with last year:

"I know our people better and I won't be experimenting as much. I want to win. It's a good habit to form and I like it. But I am not going to do anything detrimental to the future like taking chances playing someone who's hurt. I do expect our team to give a good account of itself."

The Rookies

August 3, 1974 — The slim crowd of 18,870 roared as defensive tackle Ray Baylor rumbled 93 yards with an interception for San Diego's first touchdown in a 20-6 victory over the San Francisco 49ers. Later Charger scores came from Glen Bonner and Bo Matthews.

It was a game significant by the fact that it was played only by rookies. The veterans were on strike.

Baylor now plays for San Francisco, but Bonner, Matthews and 13 of the 22 San Diego rookies, who started that night, will be in uniform for the Chargers against the Bears this Saturday night. The 14th rookie on the 1974 Chargers joined the squad later. He became NFL rookie of the year, Don Woods.

Next week the Chargers face quarterback Craig Morton and the New York Giants at San Diego Stadium on Saturday night, Aug. 16.

LM Hitters Lead College League

La Mesa leads the California Collegiate League in club batting, according to the statistics released this week by W. J. Weiss, league official statistician.

La Mesa is batting .350 as a team. Downey is second with .312.

National City leads the league with 10-1 games won and lost. La Mesa is second with 8-2.

La Mesa is fourth in fielding and fifth in pitching. There are eight teams in the league.

Holding the first four places in individual batting are R. Robinson, .443; Jim French, .438; R. Engle, .427 and D. Engle, .420 — all of La Mesa.

Fifth place is held by J. Martinez of National City with .412.

La Mesa players also led in runs, J. French, 42; Hits, Roger Engle, 50; Total Bases, J. Pearson, 76; Two Base Hits, Roger Engle, 14; and Three Base Hits, J. Pearson, 5.

Ch. 39 to Carry 'Most Football'

KCST-TV, ch. 39, will again carry Charger pre-season football games.

Golden Mike Award winner and 39TV Sports Director Mike Smith will handle the play-by-play commentary for the third year. Dave Campbell, 39TV sportscaster, former Padre and professional athlete will provide color commentary. Both Smith and Campbell are recognized sports authorities in the San Diego area.

All home games will be taped for delayed broadcast at 5 p.m. on Sundays, starting August 10 when the Chargers meet the Chicago Bears. The St. Louis Cardinals August 30 and New England Patriots September 7 games will be broadcast live from their home stadiums at 5 p.m.

With the addition of the Charger exhibition games, 39-TV says it offers the most complete football coverage of any station in San Diego.

NFL Monday Night Football is followed by the all-new Tommy Prothro Show, NCAA Game of the Week, Notre Dame Football Highlights, the College All-Star Game, and several post-season bowl games complete a comprehensive and exclusive sports schedule.

Lobos in Countdown For August 17 Game

The San Diego Lobos are going into the last nine days before their first women's professional football game. The team has six days of practice left to sharpen up their offense and defense.

The Lobos will have their last controlled scrimmage tonight at Marian High School, 18th and Coronado ave., in Imperial Beach.

The scrimmage starts at 6:45 p.m.

The starting defensive line up will be:

		Age
74	Diane Pewtress, DE	18
54	Joyce Morrow, DT	21
69	Mary Kay Harding, NG	23
77	Sharon Porschatis, DT	19
78	Marsha Powers, DE	26
84	Marty Brantner, LB	18
85	Kay Butler, LB	18
52	Pat Freeman, LB	20
82	Doris Howard, LB	20
2	Judy Sanders, S	28
40	Ellen Gravelle, S	19

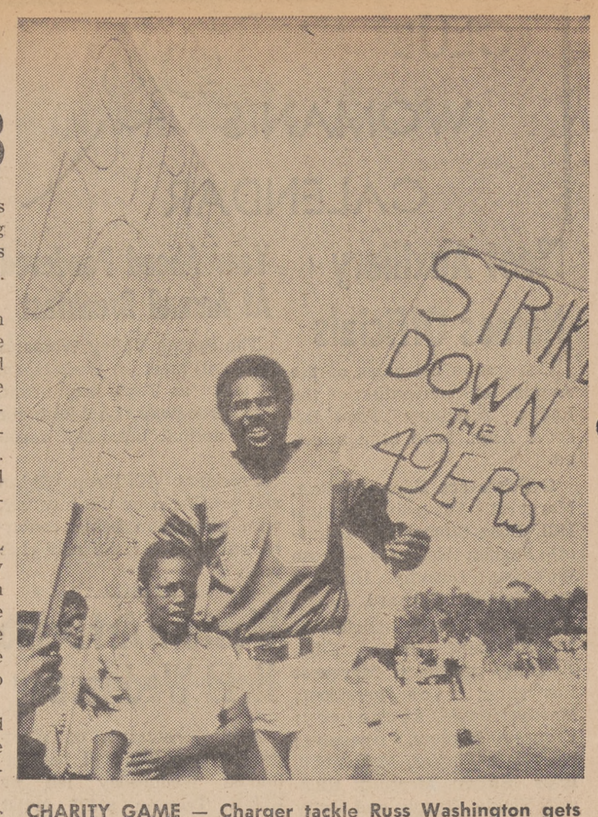
The team will play at Mesa College at 1:30 Sunday, August 17.

Buses in Area for Chargers-Bears Fans

S.D. Transit buses will leave College Grove Center Saturday starting at 6:30 to carry fans to the Chargers-Bears football game which starts at 8 p.m.

Fare is 50 cents each way and buses return immediately after the game.

Buses will be at the southwest parking lot.



CHARITY GAME — Charger tackle Russ Washington gets encouragement for a win over the San Francisco 49ers in the special Leadership Club game at San Diego Stadium August 21 from Ronnie and Kenny Carroll of Big Brothers of San Diego.
Proceeds from the game will benefit Big Brothers, Boys Clubs, Girls Clubs, and Neighborhood House. Tickets for the game are now on sale.

Goolagong, Casals, Court, et al In Net Play at Arena This Week

The San Diego Friars, winners of three of their last four matches, will have to contend with John Newcombe, Evonne Goolagong and Marty Riessen this weekend at the Sports Arena as part of the World Team Tennis Spectacular.

In fact, Newcombe will face the fast-closing Friars and their blossoming young star Vijay Amritraj twice in four days, San Diego and Newcombe's Hawaii Leis playing Friday night and again on Sunday.

The additional match with Hawaii will also allow fans a double look at Margaret Court, the holder of more major tennis titles than any woman player.

The Friars, who are 7-6 since mid-season, will present official team pennants to the first 1,000 persons attending Friday nigh's double-header that sends Rosie Casals' Los Angeles Strings against the Boston Lobsters at 6 o'clock prior to the San Diego — Hawaii showdown.

Goolagong, a finalist this year at Wimbledon, will be making her only San Diego appearance Saturday at 8 p.m. with the league-leading Pittsburgh Triangles, who also present a potent one-two punch in Mark Cox and Vitas Gerulaitis.

Free Wristbands

And the first 2,000 persons entering the Sports Arena Saturday evening will be given wristbands.

The Friars are in action twice Sunday evening, first taking on Hawaii starting at 5 p.m. and then coming back to meet Cleveland at 7. One admission covers both matches and Allan Kingston, president of the Friars, explains that the match with Hawaii was re-scheduled to give San Diego fans a double opportunity to watch John Newcombe.

Marty Riessen, Cleveland's standout, isn't bad to look at either, having been a three-time qualifier for the World Championship Tennis finals and currently ranked second (to Cox) in WTT men's singles play. At mid-season, Riessen had won 14 of 18 singles sets, tops in the league.

1 O'Clock Games

There are also afternoon matches Saturday (Phoenix vs. Boston and Los Angeles vs. Indiana) and Sunday (Los Angeles vs. Hawaii and Junior Tennis All-Stars) that start at 1 o'clock.

The Friars have reduced ticket prices for all matches this weekend and parking at the Sports Arena is free. Tickets are $6.50, $5.50 and $2.50 for evening matches and $5, $3.50 and $2 for the afternoon. Persons 18 and under and military personnel receive a $1 discount on all tickets.

With Vijay Amritraj winning consistently, the young San Diego star now is among the league's top seven singles players, with greater depth through the acquisition of Brigitte Cuypers and John Andrews, and with the improved play of Lesley Hunt and Janet Young, the Friars are abreast of Hawaii in the WTT's western division standings and now are in a position to challenge Phoenix.

The Schedule

Friday (at 6 p.m.) Los Angeles (Rosie Casals, Ross Case, Geoff Masters) vs. Boston (Bob Hewitt, Valerie Ziegenfuss) and (at 8 p.m.) San Diego Friars vs. Hawaii (John Newcombe, Margaret Court, Butch Buchholz).

Saturday (at 1 p.m.) Phoenix (Tony Roche, Francoise Durr) vs. Boston and (at 3 p.m.) Los Angeles vs. Indiana (Allan Stone, Wendy Overton).

Saturday (at 8 p.m.) San Diego Friars vs. Pittsburgh (Evonne Goolagong, Mark Cox, Vitas Gerulaitis).

Sunday (at 1 p.m.) Los Angeles vs. Hawaii and (at 3 p.m.) Junior Team Tennis All-Stars.

Sunday (at 5 p.m.) San Diego Friars vs. Hawaii and (at 7 p.m.) San Diego Friars vs. Cleveland (Marty Riessen, Clark Groebner, Ann Haydon Jones).

Soviet Spikers To Play in S.D.

The Russian Olympic men's volleyball team, rated the number-one volleyball team in the world, will play the U. S. national team at the San Diego Sports Arena Thursday night, Sept. 4.

The contest is part of a cross-country tour sponsored by the U. S. Volleyball Association.

Most experts rate the Russian team the favorite for the gold medal in the 1976 Olympics in Montreal.

The U. S. national team, which is presently working out at UC Irvine, is rated the best ever assembled by this country.

Padres Away Two Weeks; Return Home August 22

The final road trip through the National League's Eastern Division is on the agenda for the San Diego Padres the next two weeks as they wrap up road play against the East for the year.

The Padres will play 13 games on the trip which will take the club through St. Louis, New York, Philadelphia and Montreal before returning to San Diego on August 22.

St. Louis will be the first stop on the trip as the Padres and Cardinals square off in single games Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Then, the Pads will move all the way east to New York for meetings with the Mets August 11-13. Following a travel day on the 14th, the Padres will close out the trip with three in Philadelphia August 15-17 and four against the Expos in Montreal August 18-20.

"This will be a tough trip for us," said Padres manager John McNamara. "That Eastern Division race isn't wrapped up yet. It seems that every time Pittsburgh tries to pull away, somebody comes along and puts it to them to close the gap to a respectable margin.

Fear Phillies

"The hardest part of the trip, of course," continues the San Diego manager, "will be the games with the Phillies. For a while it appeared as if they were going to fade and the Pirates were going to run away with it. But, Philadelphia has been playing excellent ball lately and I doubt they will be taking any series lightly from here on out."

The Mets have been creeping back into the picture in the past few weeks and McNamara has some concerns about them, also.

"We certainly can't overlook anyone on this trip," McNamara said, "but I think we have to be particularly cautious of New York. They have the ability to put some overpowering pitchers on the mound against you and a club has to be careful not to get their heads down if Seaver and Matlack put together good games.

"Maybe the most important thing, though," summed up San Diego's whipcracker, "is to get off to a good start in St. Louis. We had some trouble with the Cardinals in there the last time around and we need to get the trip off on a winning note.

Pad-Pourri

The Padres meetings with the Cardinals will be their last of the season as the two clubs have already completed their six games in San Diego.

All three of the other clubs the Padres will be meeting will come back to San Diego at the end of the month to put the finishing touches on the overall season series . . . San Diego is beginning to look down towards its minor league clubs as their seasons will be ending in the next few weeks and as many as 15 players can be brought up on the major league roster following the end of the minor league campaign.

Oldtimers Days is Great Day for Old Time Fans

by Max Goodwin

Of the many things Buzzie Bavasi does well, his Oldtimers Day is the best.

More than 26,000 fans gathered Saturday night at the Stadium to see their favorite yesteryear baseball stars. They got their money's worth. There were 34 players on the Oldtimers list. Each one of them had achieved fame of one sort or another to be in perpetuity in baseball's record books.

On the field, the game was not as sharp as the Padres would have played it. But on the other hand only a few Padres have contributed as much to the records.

While the game itself (4 outs; strikeouts don't count) gives fans a chance to see their favorites, it is the bash Bavasi throws after the game for an invited list that has great roots in nostalgia that is so satisfying.

Approximately 150 people are guests. These include about 75 baseball players, some of whom did not suit up for the game.

Stories, Stories

At the party stories follow stories and loud laughter is everywhere as players become re-acquainted or make new friends. There was respect and admiration all around.

After dinner each player gets a gift. This year it was a wrist watch.

These were presented by Buzzie's son Peter. Peter is a fast-rising competent young baseball executive now vice president and general manager of the Padres.

The gift presentatiion gives the host a chance to announce each "athlete" who played. It also gives an opportunity for some foolishness.

Charlie Grimm, manager of the Major League All Stars brought up his banjo and, as he did when he was player and manager, enthralled the audience with such oldies as "Five Foot Two", "Somebody Stole My Gal" and a list of others.

The program isn't always music. Another year they had Casey Stengel as guest speaker. I pulled my chair up to the podium so as not to miss a word of Stengel's wisdom. After he said "good evening," it was the last thing anyone understood. He is the only person who can make a speech in "double" double talk.

This year Sandy Koufax was the center of attraction. He doesn't attend many social functions.

Larry French, Lefty Gomez, Dick Sisler, Ray Boone, Rudy Regalado, Don Newcombe, Johnny Mize, Tom Morgan, Bob Feller, and Ernie Banks were there and proved their popularity was ageless.

Others were Bill Rigney, Dick Bartell, Jim Davenport, Floyd Robinson, Al Ferrara, Albie Pearson and Ken Retzer.

Also John McNamara, Mickey Vernon, Jerry Coleman, Ed Mathews, Jackie Jensen, Hank Leiber, Terry Moore, Hank Sauer, Gus Zernial, and Del Rice.

Also Sal Maglie, Robin Roberts, Hal Scumacher and Early Wynn.

Just imagine what any sincere baseball fan over 50 would give just to be in the same room with these stars.

It is reverence such as they would show that assures baseball of staying the nation's favorite pastime forever.

Charity Game Tickets Worth Symphony Series Discounts

Gordon C. Luce, Honorary Chairman of the 1975 Leadership Club Youth Benefit Game August 21 between the San Diego Chargers and the San Francisco 49ers announced that a "bonus" is available for those who purchase tickets.

The San Diego Symphony has offered to grant a discount of the face value of the Youth Benefit tickets on their full Winter Celebrity Series which opens with Van Cliburn.

The Symphony will entertain with a pops concert before the game and during half time.

The Chargers are donating $1 for each ticket sold up to 30,000 and $2 above 30,000.

Youth groups benefitting are Big Brothers, Boys Clubs, Girls Clubs and the Neighborhood House.

Camera, Jewelry Loot

A camera, tape recorder and jewelry, all valued at $370, were taken from the home of Alfred James Cordray at 3276 Acacia st., Lemon Grove on July 23, he said.

Sheriff's deputies could not find evidence of the burglar's point of entry.

Mickey's Missiles Track Clinic Starts

Mickey's Missiles Track Team is hosting a nine-week clinic for boys and girls. MMTT is internationally known for achievements and outstanding performances in track and field and has a reputation of producing all-around champions.

All-American Mickey Tyler, former U. S. Champion in the 100 and 200 meter, and former Olympian, is Founder and Coach of MMTT as well as the director of the clinic.

The clinic is held at the Lincoln High school track field, at 49th and Imperial aves. It is designed to acquaint participants with fundamentals and techniques.

Demonstrations are conducted daily in sprinting, distance running, baseball throw, discus throw, javelin, hurdles, long jump, high jump and shot put.

Included in the clinic's activities are first-aid instruction, rap sessons, individual and group instruction, films, free lunches and fun.

An All Comers' Meet is held every Friday.

Sessions are held daily at 10-12 noon and 1-3 p.m. Although the clinic has been in operation four weeks, youngsters may join in at any time.

To contact Mickey Tyler call 262-6380 or write box 14223, S.D., CA 92114.

East County Racers on Championship Card

Off-road race champion Ivan Stewart of Lakeside is the man the "top guns" will be out to beat at SCORE's "AC-Delco World Championships" of off-road racing to be held Sept. 6-7 at Riverside International Raceway.

Fresh from his overall victory at SCORE's "AC-Delco Baja Internacional" held last month, Stewart topped a field of 380 competitors over the gruelling 392 miles of rough terrain to win top honors plus the coveted "Valvoline Iron Man" trophy. This trophy is given to the winner who completes the race single-handedly without benefit of a co-driver.

Driving a Funco single-seat, 4-wheel vehicle, Stewart is truly a champion in every sense of the word. Out of the nearly 20 major races he has entered he has come away with nearly as many victories.

Stewart says he is really looking forward to racing in SCORE's "AC-Delco World Championships" at Riverside. All the conditions of Baja are there but the challenges are condensed to a 3½ mile course in full view of spectators. It's a unique race and competitors from all over the United States will be "hot footing it" to take a slice of the combined purse and contingency money of more than $170,000.

Other early entries from the East County of San Diego are Clyde R. Jennings driving a Chevy Luv Pickup with co-drivers David Goodwin and Vern Gilbert; and also Harry A. Jackman piloting a Funco SS 11 Mazda.

The public will be on hand to cheer their favorites to victory. Available is an all inclusive ticket that includes Friday's practice sessions, Saturday's qualifying races for starting positions and Class Eleven race in the evening and the Sunday race. Campsites are available for those purchasing the all-event ticket.

SCORE headquarters is at 2701 E. Anaheim st., Wilmington, Ca. 90744, (213) 437-0466.

Tickets are available through Ticketron outlets or at the raceway gate.

Stocks, Ladies, and Rent-a-Racer on Tap

Saturday night stock car action continues this week at South Bay Park Speedway with thet action being summed up in one word — hot! Capping a regular 40-plus Street-Stock and now an up-to-a-dozen Claimer and Rent-a-Racers, the program will be the return of the ladies in another Powder Puff feature. The girls have been exciting this season with lots of fender-bending and close finishes.

The gates open each Saturday night at 6 p.m. with qualifying at 7 p.m., followed by the six car Trophy Dash at 8 p.m.

Eddie Arcaro Due for 'Rocking Chair Derby'

Peerless Eddie Arcaro, considered by many the finest racerider in Thoroughbred history, will serve as an honorary steward for Del Mar's third annual "Rocking Chair Derby" on Wednesday, August 20, it was announced by Del Mar Executive Vice President and General Manager Donald B. Smith.

Arcaro, nicknamed "The Master" in recognition of his greatness during an incredibly successful 31-year saddle career, will journey to the colorful seaside course from his home in Miami to participate in the unique event which matches eight former top jockeys in a 5½-furlong non-wagering exhibition.

The native of Cincinnati will join fellow Hall of Fame members John Longden and Johnny Adams as honorary stewards.

Scheduled to compete in the between-races affair are Dean Hall, inaugural "Rocking Chair Derby" winner in 1973 on No Dispute; Ken Church, the victor last summer on Eternal Banner; Ralph Neves, another Hall of Famer; Bill Harmatz, George Taniguchi, Angel Valenzuela and Dave Gorman.

First Win

Arcaro won his first race aboard Eagle Bird at Agua Caliente in 1931. From that beginning, he went on to capture almost every important stakes race in America, including the Kentucky Derby a record five times, the Preakness Stakes six times and the Belmont Stakes on six occasions.

He captured the Triple Crown twice, on Whirlaway in 1941 and Citation in 1948. Both Whirlaway and Citation were champions of their years, as were such other Arcaro mounts as Hill Prince, Nashua, Bold Ruler, Sword Dancer and Kelso. He also was regular pilot of such other divisional titlists as Bowl of Flowers, First Landing, Quill, Nadir, Dedicate, High Gun, Misty Morn, Parlo, Battlefield, Real Delight, Phalanx, But Why Not, Devil Diver and By Jimminy.

Before retiring in 1961, Arcaro won 4,779 races, third only to Bill Shoemaker and Longden, for a victory percentage of 19.8. His mounts earned more than $30 million, with 549 stakes successes, second to Shoemaker.

He was America's leading money-winning rider six times, in 1940, '42, '48, '50, '52 and '55. In his lone Del Mar appearance, in 1957, he won the Del Mar Futurity aboard the brilliant Old Pueblo.

Y. Handball Classic Open to All Classes

The 6th annual Sweatbox Handball Classic sponsored by the Copley Family YMCA and the S.D. Handball Assn. will be held August 13-23 for Singles play and September 3-13 for Doubles.

A, B, C and Masters classes are open to public play.

Single elimination with first and second place trophies is programmed.

To play, call Copley Y at 283-2251.

Black Tennis Group Sets S.D. Tournament

The American Tennis Assn. will stage its 58th annual national championship, August 17-23, in San Diego. It will be the first time the tournament is played on the west coast.

Mountain View Tennis Club is host for the event that will be played on various courts throughout San Diego, according to Dr. Clyde Freeman, ATA president.

Celebrity matches, featuring top entertainment and sports personalities, will be co-sponsored by American Airlines and Jet Magazine on August 17 at Morley Field.

The ATA tournament will benefit San Diego's Martin Luther King recreational park in the southeastern section of the city. Among improvements is construction of seven new tennis courts.

The ATA was founded by blacks in 1916 in Washington, D.C. Its purpose was to provide blacks with an opportunity to participate in organized and competitive tennis. The association now has 150 clubs in the U. S. Among its more famous "graduates" are Althea Gibson and Arthur Ashe.

Ashe recently signed as American Airlines' touring professional and goodwill tennis ambassador.

Three Matadors Face Santo Domingo Bulls

Three young matadors, one of them already a long-time star, comprise the cartel for Sunday at the bullring by the sea, Plaza Monumental de Tijuana.

They are Curro Rivera, Humberto Moro, and Eduardo Liceaga, who will each face two bulls of Santo Domingo beginning at 4 p.m.

This will mark the fourth appearance of the season for Rivera, 23, of Mexico City. Rivera, a star since becoming a full-fledged matador in 1968 at the age of 16, has drawn difficult bulls almost every time this summer.

Moro, 17, of Mexico City is one of the promising newcomers in debuts along the border this summer. His previous Tijuana corridas were May 25, when he showed good details with Reyes Huerta bulls, and July 13, when he won a tail from a Campo Alegre bull.

Liceaga, 20, of Mexico City made his Tijuana debut on July 13 in the Campo Alegre corrida with Moro. He won an ear from his second bull, Pescado, after a quick kill that followed an artistic faena.

Tires Taken

Five radial tires worth $250 were taken from the Goodyear Tire store at 6883 Federal blvd., in Lemon Grove early morning, July 25.

D. R. Saldred, a clerk, said the merchandise was missing when the store was opened. Entry was made by removing a glass from a window.

Cajon Lead Grows for McIntyre

Someone will have to stop Pat McIntyre real soon or it will be almost impossible to overtake him in his drive toward his third super stock car championship.

The Spring Valley building contractor, who has a 390 pt. advantage over Tim Biggers of El Cajon, has won five main events, two seconds and three thirds this season.

He'll be the man to beat Saturday night when the ECSCRA racers hook up in another racing program at Cajon Speedway.

Time trials for more than 60 cars begin at 6:30. The four fastest qualifiers will battle in the four-lap trophy dash.

Powder Puffers

As an added feature, women drivers will engage in a 10-lap Powder Puff race.

This involves a closer battle for the championship, with Barb Baxter of El Cajon leading Joy Swentkofse of San Diego 854-840. Martha Starr of Alpine is in third place, 70 points behind.

Other gals competing include Diane Butler of San Diego, Angie Armendariz of El Cajon, Caron Burrows of Santee. Mac Huntington of El Cajon and Pat Walker of Santee.

Meanwhile, several drivers would like to be blessed with a strong-running backup engine such as the one belonging to the McIntyre crew.

Beecroft set fast time last week and bears watching. Russ Bullen has also been doing a fine job in Mark Norris' Oldsmobile, qualifying second fastest last week. The two-time champion will be driving the car until Norris' injured shoulder heals.

Sky-Grove 2nd To I.B. In Pony Tourney

Imperial Beach beat Sky Grove 4-2 Sunday to wrest the Pony League championship from the reach of the local youths.

Sky Grove had already won the Area III and District playoffs but had to settle for second in the Sectionals.

On July 30 Sky Grove beat Pionser Presidio 6-3 behind the pitching of Phil Oyos who had pitched 35 innings of tournament play without allowing an earned run. Ruben Garcia, Terry Bolin and John Alvarez hit homers.

On August 1 Imperial Beach beat Sky Grove 3-2 with Garcia pitching.

Sky-Grove again beat Pionser Presidio on August 2, this time by 3-2 but it took 8 innings. Matt Evans was winning pitcher.

Sky-Grove laced Poway 7-0 in an afternoon game August 3. Ruben Garcia pitched 19 strikeouts and Casey Tiumalu hit a home run.

But Imperial Beach proved indomitable in the evening game August 3. Sky-Grove went down 4-2 with Terry Bolin and Matt Evans pitching.

The games were played in Chula Vista.

'Fireball 500' At Gardena

GARDENA — Two famous auto-racing names are unusual entries for the first ever "Fireball 500" Open Competition Super Stock race at Ascot Park Friday and Saturday nights on the half-mile dirt.

Two-time Indianapolis-500 winner Rodger Ward of Rosemead and Gary Gabelich of Long Beach, the world land-speed record-holder, will attempt to qualify on Friday for the Saturday night 500-lap main event.

Ward, who has competed at Riverside with the stockers, is returning to dirt where he drove open cockpit cars for years. He will pilot a 1967 Chevelle. Gabelich, who also races drag boats, will drive a 1972 Ford Torino.

First on Coast

The 500-lap super-stock spectacular is the first of its kind on the West Coast, as 50 drivers will start the nonstop 250-miler. The top 40 cars will qualify for the marathon on Friday with four 25-lap survival heats.

The top ten finishers of each heat will transfer to the 500-lap feature on Saturday. The remaining cars will compete in a consolation race on Saturday, prior to the 500-lapper, and the top ten placing cars will make up the remainder of the 50-car lineup.

FEAR Figure 8's, Ovals, Demolition Derby starts at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Two Handicaps Highlight DM Racing Card

Renewal of two of Del Mar's traditional handicap events for older horses — the $20,000-added Bing Crosby and the $25,000-added San Diego — will highlight an interesting week of Thoroughbred racing at the colorful seaside course.

The Crosby Handicap, named in honor of one of the track's founders, will be presented Saturday at six furlongs, while the mile and one-sixteenth San Diego 'Cap will headline the nine-race program Sunday.

Among the top sprinters awaiting the Crosby are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Elmore's classy Century's Envoy and B. J. Ridder's fleet three-year-old, Messenger of Song.

Century's Envoy was the West's leading two-year-old in 1973, missed much of his sophomore season because of various ailments, but has come back strongly this year to be a potent factor in stakes competition.

Other candidates for the Crosby include Cherry River, Beira, Santa Anita track record-holder for six furlongs; Willmar, winner of the recent Oceanside Handicap, and New Stamp.

Against the Snow, easy winner of the Cabrillo Handicap this season, will head the lineup in the San Diego Handicap. Against the Snow, a son of Del Mar mile and one-sixteenth record-holder Windy Sands, led from wire-to-wire to win the Cabrillo Handicap, easily defeating Top Command, another nominee to the San Diego.

Also primed for the test are Blue Times, Chief Pronto, Strong Award, Confederate Yankee and John C. Mabee's Hail and Farewell.

$75,000 Prize Money for Best Salmon Fishers

Anglers from around the world will compete with 8,000 local fishermen from British Columbia for $75,000 in prize money at the eighth annual World Championship Salmon Derby to be held near Vancouver August 9 and 10.

Two $25,000 first prizes are offered — $25,000 for the biggest salmon, and a $25,000 for the salmon which exactly matches a pre-selected weight between 15 and 20 lbs. Special prizes also will be awarded for the largest Coho salmon, and for the first salmon over 20 lbs. caught in each of the Derby's three designated fishing areas.

Three Arenas

With entrants coming from Australia, Denmark, Japan, Italy, Switzerland and the U. S., anglers will have a choice of three areas in which to compete — Howe Sound and English Bay; Cowichan Bay on Vancouver Island; and Pender Harbor and Secret Cove, 40 miles north of Vancouver. Weigh-in stations have been set up in all locations.

Registration is $12 per person per line-in-water. Profits from the Derby will go to the Salmon Research Society of British Columbia, a non-profit organization. The 25 biggest salmon become the property of the Derby and are donated to charity.

For Southern California fishing enthusiasts who want to try their luck, CP Air offers two flights a day from Los Angeles to Vancouver, one departing Los Angeles International Airport at 8:30 a.m. and an evening departure at 7 p.m.

Interested anglers may contact CP Air, 514 West Sixth st., Los Angeles, CA 90014 (213) 626-4508.

Juvenile Hall Feared

Duane W. Bennett, 7547 Zemco, Lemon Grove was in the process of moving July 27 to Poway.

Returning home to pick up some additional belongings Bennett found a great number of them spread out on his neighbor's lawn.

Among the items were chinaware, tools, books, textbooks, weights, fire extinguishers, tools and various other items.

Sheriff's deputies tracked down three juvenile boys — 10, 12, and 12 who admitted taking the items and then almost returning them because they "didn't want to go to juvenile hall."

Their parents will take care of that.

Computer Match Service Pairs Carpoolers Here

"Commuter Computer" service is now in full swing in the San Diego area. Since June 20, operators have been standing by at 234-POOL to take names and route information from auto drivers and riders who want to pool valuable fuel resources either by taking on riders on the way to work or by leaving the gas-hungry monster in the garage and riding along with someone else.

Phone calls are being fielded by a staff of three at San Diego City offices although operation of the computer is at least two weeks away. Some match-ups have already been made by hand-screening applicants.

Ninety per cent of the free service is funded by the U.S. Department of Transportation. The remainder of the tab is picked up by the four local sponsoring agencies—City of San Diego, San Diego County, Comprehensive Planning Organization and Caltrans.

Since opening in June vehicle operators have filed over 100 applications.

Potential carpoolers can relay information via telephone or through the mail by requesting an application form from the operators. A postpaid return envelope is furnished with the form.

The information requested includes the applicant's name, address, and work location.

Rifle Stolen

A .22 cal. Remington auto rifle was stolen from the home of Reuben Earl Rooks, at 8897 Lance st., Spring Valley, he told sheriff's deputies Friday.

Rooks, a legal advisor at North Island, said he was away when the burglary occurred and that nothing else was disturbed or taken.

USDA Pays Penny More For Elderly's Meals

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has increased the value of food it donates to nutrition programs for the elderly which are funded under the Older Americans Act of 1965.

USDA's Food and Nutrition Service increased the donated food from 10 cents to 11 cents per meal, reflecting the change in the Consumer Price Index for food away from home from May 1974 to May 1975. The increase became effective July 1.

The increase is in line with Public Law 93-351 which amends the Older American Act and requires commodity assistance to nutrition programs for the elderly to be adjusted annually.

BANKAMERICARD and MASTERCHARGE

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As a director of youth, I find that very few parents are aware of the change in laws affecting youth.

The state of California passed a Bill making homosexuality legal. Among those who approved the bill:

Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.

Sen. James Mills of San Diego

Assemblyman Peter R. Chacon of San Diego

Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh of San Diego

Assemblyman Lawrence Kapiloff

Among those who voted against it:

Sen. John Stull of San Diego

Sen. Jack Schrade of San Diego

Assemblyman Robert Burke

Sen. H. L. Richardson of Arcadia

Assemblyman Mike Antonovich of Glendale

As a God-fearing citizen of this country I find it necessary to inform you that I will never again vote for any elective member who has endorsed bill no. AB489 and contributed to legalization of homosexuality in the State of California.

Furthermore, I consider it my duty to inform other voters concerning this matter. By passing bill no. AB489 this morally misguided body presumed to become our conscience. This I protest and will welcome every opportunity to assist in its repeal.

Our country was founded upon the Bible and the Bible specifically forbids homosexuality and sodomy in any form. It is described as vile affection, passions of infamy and shame, dishonor and a reproach to any nation. This is found in a dozen or more places in the Bible, particularly Leviticus chapter 20, Romans chapter I, I Corinthians 6:9 to name a few. The Bible states that any nation sanctioning such practice will be destroyed.

Church leaders and the great army of Christians have become aware of actions of our elected officials and we are determined to change the course of nation at the polls. We feel that decent non-Christian citizens will be equally interested in preserving the nation by intelligent vote once he is fully informed.

We understand that the passage of the consenting adults law now makes it possible that immoral acts on a 14-year-old can be treated as a misdemeanor offense. A forced attack on a small child (anyone under 14) the threat of life sentence has been reduced to a period of one to fifteen years. We understand that Assemblyman Kapiloff's office gave out the report that the assault on children would be taken care of but the Boatright Amendment finds the reduced sentence for attacking a small child still in effect. We understand also that the passage of the homosexuality law opens the door for legalizing prostitution.

Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord. Psa. 33-12.

Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people. Proverb 14:34

Dear Editor:

The Lemon Grove Information and Referral Center (formerly Crisis Cottage) at 3270 Main st. would like your help in establishing ourselves as a link between employers and unemployed persons in the area.

We would like to have employers notify us of any job openings that they may have, the requirements needed to apply and where a person may go for an interview or to fill out an application.

We have had many calls from persons who are looking for a job in the area. They want to work in Lemon Grove and surrounding areas because of the high cost of transportation.

By providing this service to both groups of people we will be promoting business for local merchants. Surveys have shown that a person spends his paycheck in the area in which he works.

With your help we can contact more business persons than by seeing each one individually.

Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,
Fred Anderson

Walsh Sees Jail Operated By Probation Department

By Supervisor Jack Walsh

The Board of Supervisors has taken action to transfer the operation of the county jail from the Sheriff's Department to a new Department of Corrections, responsible to the Board.

Why?

The Board acted as it did because of mounting complaints of mismanagement, overcrowding, brutality and poor medical care within the jail. (62 incidents of alleged brutality are currently under investigation by the Grand Jury. A Deputy Sheriff has been indicted by the Grand Jury.)

When there are severe criticisms of the way the jail is being run, the Board inherits a goodly share of that criticism, and rightfully so. Because while the Sheriff is elected by the people of this county, the Board of Supervisors must provide money for his department's operation. Taxpayer money.

The concept of a jail operated by someone other than the Sheriff is not new. Enabling state legislation was passed in 1958. I have been proposing such a move since 1969 — long before John Duffy became Sheriff.

Since 1850

In California, Sheriffs have run the county jails since 1850, the year in which the state was founded. With such historical precedent, the natural assumption is that they are the most qualified for the job. But times have changed.

The Sheriff and his deputies are law enforcement officials. They receive highly specialized training in the prevention and detection of crime, as well as the apprehension of criminals. With the frightening escalation of violent crime, every available deputy is needed in the field. Yet more than one hundred of them currently "warehouse" prisoners in the jail.

It is the sincere conviction of the Board majority that the Sheriff should be freed from his responsibilities for the jail so he can focus his attention and resources on enforcement. Let others, trained in correction and rehabilitation, handle the prison inmates.

Probation Operation

Concern has been voiced that a new department means another layer of bureaucracy and more expense to the taxpayer. I do not share that concern. The new department will be created from within the present Probation Department, supplemented by certain present jail personnel. There should be no increase in cost.

I believe that the Board's action shows that the majority recognizes the difference between law enforcement and correctional functions. It means that we will have the opportunity to reduce the jail population by revising bail procedures so that minor offenders are not locked up unnecessarily. Finally, and most importantly, the Board will be able to respond immediately to any charges of mismanagement or other malfeasance.

Many have asked if the law permits the Board to take the jail operation from the Sheriff's control. There is a statute which explicitly says it can. There is, however, another equally explicit statute which says that the Sheriff shall run the jail. The state Attorney General, after examining the conflicting laws, has ruled that the Board does have the authority to take the jail from the Sheriff's control.

I deeply regret the allegations of personal vindictiveness that have been leveled against me by the Sheriff. The basic issue of how best to serve the interests of the citizens of San Diego County has been obscured by unfortunate rhetoric.

I repeat a statement I have made many times before. There is only one name I have ever called John Duffy.

Sheriff.

Duffy's Darts

by Sheriff John F. Duffy

Either through deliberate action or acting on misinformation, there is a great misunderstanding on legislation I introduced in the State Legislature which paves the way for the establishment of a department of corrections and provides options to the court in sentencing prisoners.

The current problem arose in 1957, when the legislature adopted Section 23013 of the Government Code which gave county boards of supervisors the authority to establish a department of corrections "relating to institutional punishment, care, treatment, and rehabilitation of prisoners, including, but not limited to the county jail and industrial farms and road camps, their functions and personnel."

In the 18 years since, not one county has chosen to exercise this authority because it would require including the jail, thereby conflicting with hundreds of state statutes, including Section 26605 of the Government Code which says "The sheriff shall take charge of and keep the county jail and the prisoners in it".

I believe the legislature intended that Section 23013 would pertain only to sentenced prisoners, not those arraigned and delivered to the custody of the sheriff by all the other law enforcement agencies in the county.

Wants Jail Excluded

In order to clarify the law, and save taxpayers the enormous cost of a lengthy court battle to settle the issue, I requested that the code be amended to exclude the jail from a department of corrections. This opens the way for a board of supervisors to establish a department of corrections without conflicting with all the hundreds of laws pertaining to the duties of a sheriff.

Another favorable aspect of the change would provide that a court, in its discretion, may commit sentenced prisoners directly to a department of corrections or to the custody of the sheriff. They now only have the option of committing sentenced prisoners to the sheriff.

The bill has the endorsement of all statewide law enforcement associations and, perhaps more importantly, the California Probation, Parole, and Correction Assn. — the people who would operate a department of corrections in the event our board of supervisors establish one.

Heavy Support

Known as Senate Bill 599, the bill sailed through the Senate by a 23-2 vote with San Diego Senators Jim Mills, Jack Schrade and John Stull all favoring it.

The bill is now in the Assembly Criminal Justice Committee and due for a committee hearing shortly after the resumption of the legislature on August 4. Assemblyman Bill Craven of Oceanside is scheduled to carry the bill in the Assembly.

Unfortunately, San Diego Supervisors Jack Walsh, Jim Bates and Dick Brown are out of step and voted as a bloc to oppose the bill, thereby inviting the unnecessary waste of taxpayers dollars in order for the courts to decide the intent of the present code section.

I believe our local taxpayers would prefer that the legislature itself clarify its intent with this new legislation and at the same time, provide additional home rule to the supervisors and judges.

Grove Man's Degree

There must be a recognition that a procedure which takes two minutes is not the same that requires two and a half man-hours," Chambers said.

At National, units are the same. The charge is $45 a unit and there are five units to a course in the associate, bachelor and masters degree programs.

The student must schedule 40 hours a month of classroom instruction in two-4 hour sessions each week 5-9 p.m. and on Saturdays as necessary.

Credits Useable

National University will accept credits earned in both academic and vocational degree programs listed in H.E.W.'s Directory of Higher Education.

While classrooms at National U. are walled off, informality that encourages interchange of ideas on the course study is encouraged.

But no walls separate administration. The office is one vast, carpeted wrap-around area where even the president, Dr. David Chigos, is out in the open.

His desk is not as orderly as you'd expect of a college president, but he has no walls, shelves, files nor closets in which to stash his materials. An electric pencil sharpener is on the floor within easy stooping distance of his chair.

Informality? As he strolls through the administrative area, associates give him the high sign and a "Hello, Dave." Especially when he distributes an armload of pizza as he did last week. He stopped where the reporter was discussing the university with Wally Wade, the consultant for special projects and insisted on sharing his exotic smelling but fattening goodies. The reporter, in an unusual display of willpower, resisted.

Informality

Even in the classrooms, the informality is such that disagreement with the professor's concepts is encouraged. Students are free to take coffee breaks at will. Coffeemakers are kept filled in a corner of each room. The stressing of "maturity" among students guarantees that disagreements are not fatuous nor wandering-about frivolous.

The enrollment at National U. has grown from 27 in 1972 when the University was founded, to nearly 1,200 this year. The University is unique in that it was not founded with public funds and is operated on tuitions. It is not on the property tax rolls.

Local Grads

There are several students and graduates from the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area, Dr. Chigos said. Of the full complement of students, most of them complete their courses. Of those who leave, it is often because of advancement or transfer. Employers' attention is attracted to those in a degree program, Wade said, and when the promotion means transfer, the student is lost — at least temporarily.

Of those who left, most indicated they would be back to complete their course and get their degree.

In the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area, hospital patients are already beginning to enjoy some of the profits accrued through National University's concept of higher education. Chambers study has already produced a higher degree of efficiency in his department.

Barrow, Brooks Nominated for Hall of Champs

Barbara Barrow, San Diego State's outstanding woman golfer, and Tommy Brooks, a former Morse High School athlete now serving with the Air Force, have been tabbed as amateur co-winners of the Breitbard Athletic Star of the Month Award for June by the San Diego Hall of Champions Awards Committee.

Miss Barrow won the 1975 Women's National Intercollegiate links title in a three-hole playoff at the Oro Valley Country Club in Tucson, topping a field of 159 women golfers from throughout the country.

Brooks received the nod by being crowned National AAU middleweight boxing champion after a series of spectacular performances in Shreveport, La., where he scored four knockouts in a row, then defeated the reigning Golden Gloves king, Mike Spinks, by decision in the finals.

Currently serving at a base in Montana, Brooks previously had won his division in the All-Air Force and All-Service tourneys and the World Military Games, and his next appearance is expected to be in the Pan American Games.

The Awards Committee also cited for special recognition, veteran golfer Anderson "Andy" Borthwick and 19-year-old Scott Robeson, former four-sport letterman at Coronado High.

Shoots 74

Borthwick won the 75-79 year old division in the US Senior Golf Assn. Championships at Rye, N.Y., where his rounds included a 74, one stroke under his age.

In 1972 young Robeson was paralyzed from the waist down after an automobile accident, and on June 14, exactly three years to the day following his injury, he set five new swimming records in the National Wheelchair Games held at Champaign, Ill.

The Hall of Champions granted certificates of achievement to Andrew Rae of the University of San Diego for winning his second straight NCAA Division II singles tennis crown; El Cajon's Greg Louganis, winner of the one-meter and tower diving events for boys 15-16 in the National AAU age group meet at Rochester, Minn.; and Marty Smith, who scored a sweep in the American Motorcycle Association race meet at Midland, Mich.

'Woody' Wilson Retires

The man responsible for the drivers licenses carried by more than 13 million Californians announced his retirement after 36 years of public service.

Woodrow C. "Woody" Wilson, 61-year-old Chief of the DMV's Division of Drivers Licenses, has retired from the position he has held since July, 1973.

Stereo is Loot

Andre R. Chabot, a clerk, of 3517 Harris st., Lemon Grove, told sheriff's deputies Sunday that his stereo equipment worth $400 is missing.

He said his roommate had been gone a week to answer a manslaughter charge. After he returned the stereo equipment —a tuner, speakers and turntable — was missing.

Now his roommate is missing, too.

Woody Herman And Herd Here Tonight at VV

Woody Herman and the Thundering Herd, a world famous band which reached its peak during WWII era, will play for dancers one night only at the Vacation Village ballroom.

Among the numbers dancers will recall are "Caledonia", "Woodchoppers Ball," and "Autumn Summer."

Herman's Herd will be remembered by radio fans of the early 40's when his programs were heard nationwide. He cut records for Decca and his recording of "Woodchoppers" topped five million. He later switched to Columbia and appeared in concert at Carnegie Hall in 1946. In the early 50's he was among the famous names that provided ballroom programs. He appeared on the Paramount theatre stage with Bob Hope and at the Famous Door in the 40's.

He is still extremely popular and has recently played in such diverse places as Crete, Nebraska; the Halfote in New York and the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland.

He played at Disneyland just prior to his Vacation Village engagement.

Vacation Village is on East Mission Bay drive opposite Sea World.

Alpha Project---New Approach to Resident Home for Youth

By John Kowalczyk

The problem of what to do with youthful offenders of the law is handled a different way by a group of concerned citizens in Spring Valley, most of whom are pretty young themselves.

Alpha Project is the dream-come-true of Tom D'Intino who for a long time has worked with youth under the Volunteers in Probation (VIP) program.

The project is a residence home for boys, but that is nothing new. Residence homes and foster homes for young delinquents have been initiated all over the country — and with varying degrees of success.

What makes this home unique — not only for the area but for the state — is the fact that the home is a private non-profit organization of close friends in business to rehabilitate wayward youth.

D'Intino, himself all of 25, got the idea for the "group home" last October. Three months later, with help from many friends and professionals, he had drafted a detailed report of the program and had begun financing a house — a three-bedroom in the neighborhood where he grew up in South Spring Valley.

The program is designed for up to six boys (two to a room) 13 through 17 who have committed 602 offenses—criminal code designation for any youth-committed act which is also a criminal offense for adults.

There is no set minimum time that a boy can spend in the home, but for the full benefits of the program a stay of six months to a year is ideal.

Group Home

How to classify the project is a problem since there are few known models to compare.

According to the State, the home is a children's institution. The designation, even though Alpha Project will serve adolescents rather than children, was essential for granting a state license. It seems there is no official permit for the project's specific services.

To suite the County Probation Department's lexicon, the home is a 24-hr. school, so named because youth sent there are 24-hour residents as are those sent to institutions like the one in Campo.

One might liken it to a foster home. There are similarities in terms of the freedom it affords its charges, but there are no pretentions by the staff that they are surrogate parents.

The staff likes to call it a "group home" or a "residential treatment facility."

"The parent is the authority figure who many of the youths in trouble have come to reject," explained D'Intino. Alpha Project, with a staff of about a dozen sharing day and night services, aims to counsel, tutor, discipline, and keep house without establishing parental identities. At least one staff member will be in the house at all times.

Teaches Survival

The thrust is to group-teach survival tactics and responsibilities to the community, administrator Sharon Armstrong will tell you. The boys who are sent to the home will be responsible for certain household duties — like maintaining a clean room, doing their personal laundry, even cooking a meal. Maintaining their schooling will be a major responsibility. The group has established contacts with Mount Miguel and Skyline continuation school to keep close track of the young residents' progress.

Their incentive for staying on their best behavior will go beyond a $1 a day stipend earned for following house regulations.

The lad sent to Alpha Project will have to appreciate the advantages of the home or be sent to an institution where one "serves time" and does little more.

Eager Staff

Anxious to pitch in and get the project off and rolling are the core staff and assistants, some of whom are waiting to quit other jobs to devote themselves full time to the project.

Miss Armstrong, 25, as well as serving as administrator, holds a bachelors' degree in English and will use her wealth of teaching experience to tutor the youths working closely with their school instructors. She is ready to quit her present job as soon as the house is filled — at present, there have been no full-time referrals, although one youth was permitted to use the facilities on a visitation basis. She also grew up in the Spring Valley neighborhood and like D'Intino, is a Mt. Miguel High graduate. She worked closely with Tom on the project program.

Jane Wallace, 26, holds a B.A. in sociology and serves as the third partner, Assistant Administrator and counselor.

Fourth partner is Sandra Schlenker, 22, a registered LVN presently working at a convalescent hospital.

Also on the staff is Robert Martin, 30, who enters the project as a social worker with six years of study at the Verona Seminary, and qualifications to teach subjects ranging from canoeing to drug abuse. He is the current principal of St. Madeline Sophies' School for handicapped children.

Mike Johnson is a credentialed teacher specializing in industrial arts who will lend his services and the garage of his Lemon Grove home to teach auto repair, welding and other phases of industrial craftsmanship to residents.

Add to the staff Frank Cruz, and Bill Morgan, recreation leaders; Mrs. H. C. Armstrong (Sharon's mother and Lemon Grove resident) and Cathy Treinen who will share housekeeping duties, and one would think that the home staffing would be complete.

But backing them up are still more professionals who have volunteered to help when needed. Among them are psychiatrists from Psychiatric Centers of San Diego, instructors from San Diego State and a physician, Dr. R. E. Tisdale, D'Intino's long-time family doctor who has volunteered his services if needed.

A Success?

The home, funded by County Welfare for an 8-month trial run, has the financial and professional backing to make it a success. Neighborhood residents — a contingent whose objections have closed similar home trials in different areas — seem to be accepting and encouraging D'Intino's dream. One neighbor has donated the use of his backyard pool for the youths while several others showed up at the group's open house held last month.

More Aid Asked For 3 Programs For Elderly

Senator Alan Cranston has requested additional federal support for three "highly successful and productive" older Americans volunteer programs.

In testimony before the Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor-HEW, Cranston called the programs — Foster Grandparents, Senior Companions and Retired Senior Volunteers — "cost-effective and beneficial". Cranston is chairman of the Senate Labor Special Subcommittee on Human Resources which has jurisdiction over these programs.

Companions

The Foster Grandparents program pays low-income older Americans a small supplemental stipend — based on $1.60 an hour for 20 hours of service a week — to act as companions to institutionalized, underprivileged children "giving them the personal attention and loving care they so desperately need but usually can't get," Cranston said.

California has 1,200 older citizens, aged 60 and over, who provide this "dedicated and compassionate companionship" to thousands of needy youngsters," Cranston said. There are more than 12,000 elderly in the program nationwide.

Increased Aid

Cranston asked for a $32 million appropriation for fiscal 1976 — an increase of $3.7 million over the current level. The additional funds, he said, "could be used either to increase the number of foster grandparents or raise the amount of the stipend they receive to help offset inflation".

Because of the success of the Foster Grandparents program, Cranston authored another program two years ago called Senior Companions. It begins where Foster Grandparents leaves off — providing companionship to people over 18 who have exceptional needs or developmental disabilities.

There are 15,000 RSVP Californians — 140,000 nationally. Cranston recommended a $1.5 million increase to bring the program funding level to $17.5 million and provide an additional 45,000 RSVP volunteers.

Cozens Returns To Local Gov't; Heads Agency

The assignment of Robert C. Cozens as acting coordinator of the County's Fiscal and Justice Agency was confirmed last week by the County Board of Supervisors.

Cozens will replace Bud James who is retiring. Cozens, a former County supervisor (1960-1969), begins his duties immediately as the new acting agency coordinator.

Cozens was appointed director of the Department of Motor Vehicles in 1969, by former Governor Ronald Reagan.

Bud James, outgoing agency coordinator, has held that position since October of 1971. Before being appointed to that position, James was San Diego County Clerk, an elected position.

Cash, Food Stamps Taken by Robbers

Two black men, both about 21 but one weighing about 20 pounds more than the other, robbed the U-Tote-M store at 1078 Elkelton, Spring Valley, of $48 Saturday, July 19, at 3:45 a.m.

Richard Lynn Hilliard, 21, the clerk, said one of the men brandished a blue steel revolver and took cash and food stamps from the register.

"Give me all you've got as fast as you can," said the man with the gun. "Hurry up!" said the other.

The robbers forced Hilliard to lie on the floor and fled. The clerk said he neither saw nor heard an auto leave after the incident.

Supreme Gasoline

He put $7.80 worth of supreme gasoline in his tank on July 27 about 2:30 p.m. — and then the bad news. "Sorry, I left my money at home," he told Carl Stewart, 21, clerk of Thrifty Gas station at 2717 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove.

The patron was described as a male, black, about 21, driving a yellow Camaro.

He may pay his bill with a penalty attached because Stewart copied his license number and handed it to sheriff's deputies who are tracking the driver down.

Lad 8, Saves Boy; Is Hero in Texas

A Sherman, Texas youth, whose family recently moved from the San Diego area, has become a hero in his new community.

Raymond Matthew Bass, 8, who had been taking swimming lessons and was nominated to receive a Presidential Fitness award in Cub Scout ceremonies, rescued a four year old boy who had fallen into the swirling waters below a dam in nearby Denison. Force of the water discharged from the dam's reservoir swept the child into the river.

Bass jumped in and pulled the child to safety. He was later honored by the Sherman Lions Club for his heroics.

Bass had been a member of Skyline Church in Lemon Grove. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glade, and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ibe, are Lemon Grove residents.

Gas, Sales Tax Intake Disbursed Last Month

Gasoline consumption in May increased 30.8 million gallons over May 1974, but is still below the pre-energy crisis figures of 914.3 gallons for May 1973. Figures released by State Board of Equalization show that gasoline distribution in May 1975 rose 3.6 percent over May 1974, but was 2.0 percent below the May 1973 figures.

Revenue to the state from the 7-cents-a-gallon state tax on gasoline increased $2.1 million, up from $60.6 million in May 1974 to $62.7 million in May 1975.

The Board also announced the release of more than $49.3 million to California cities and counties in the July distribution of local sales and use tax funds. The funds, representing the second advance payment of the second quarter of 1975, were released last week.

San Diego county will receive $260,000 plus $618,750 from the 1/4 percent local sales and use tax payment for local transportation funds.

Gov't. Booklet Tells of Cancer Warning Signals

Every year, cancer strikes thousands of people. It can affect anyone, any time. But if you understand the symptoms of cancer and how to get prompt treatment for them, modern science assures an excellent chance of recovery.

A publication of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare tells you about "Cancer: What to Know and What to Do About It." The book is available free from Consumer Information, Dept. 39, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

First of all, you should know that many kinds of cancer can be easily diagnosed in a regular check-up. So don't neglect that yearly physical. With early discovery and early treatment, the chances for survival are very good.

You should also be aware of possible signs of cancer: unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore that does not heal, change in bowel or bladder habits, hoarseness or cough, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing or change in a mole or wart.

If your symptoms last longer than two weeks, go to your doctor and find out if it means cancer. Don't wait for the symptoms to become painful. Pain is not an early cancer sign.

In addition to looking for symptoms and getting a yearly check-up, you can boost your chances against cancer by avoiding those habits which are known to lead to cancer — cigarette smoking and excessive exposure to sunlight.

Beware of quack treatments such as diets and other means. They are useless and can seriously endanger your life by postponing effective treatment. Modern surgery, radiation therapy and drug treatment, singly or in combination, are effective against different types of cancer.

With those treatments and improved methods of detection, your chances of winning the battle against cancer are very good. So don't be afraid of finding that you have cancer; your chance of survival will be much greater if you face — and treat — the problem early.

The HEW booklet is one of almost 250 selected Federal publications listed in the current edition of the Consumer Information Index. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Index is available free from Consumer Informateion in Pueblo.

168 Care Days

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley residents received 168 days of care in 1974 from the United Way funded agency, Homemaker Service.

'Pat' Brown Wants Coast Study Made

Former Governor Edmund G. "Pat" Brown said the California Council for Environmental and Economic Balance supports the plan for the preservation of California's coast and will work to get one.

He called on the State Coastal Commission to face up to criticism that the Coastal Plan being developed fails to consider the economic impact of its policies on the state and does not provide any estimate of the public cost of implementing the far-reaching plan for preservation of the coast.

Brown, as Chairman of the California Council for Environmental and Economic Balance, indicated that the Coastal Commission could, "go a long way" towards demonstrating its commitment to a balanced plan for coastal management by publicly supporting a measure, requiring the state's legislative analyst to do an impartial analysis of the Coastal Plan including the cost of implementation and economic impact of the Plan on the State.

"I strongly urge the State Coastal Commission to support this measure which will provide facts, not rhetoric, Brown said.

Or Try Memphis, Dallas

Utilities Come Cheaper Up the California Coast

If you're a typical customer of gas, electricity and telephone services, the place to go is San Francisco where your monthly bill of $26.07 is the best of 25 major cities in the United States.

Worst place to be is New York City whose typical customer is levied $55.85 for the same services.

The figures are the result of an annual survey conducted by the California Public Utilities Commission who report that California cities still maintain a "highly favorable" standing when compared to other large cities throughout the country.

Beside San Francisco, Los Angeles ranks fifth in the survey with a $29.96 figure while San Diego, with $32.18 as the typical bill, placed tenth.

Los Angeles rose to the fifth place spot from the previous year's survey while San Diego dropped from 8th to 10th.

The survey is based on the going rate for monthly use of 70 therms of natural gas, 300 kilowatt-hours of electricity and one-party flat rate telephone service. The study was based on rates effective June 30.

Other cities ranking in the top ten were:

Memphis, second, $27.90; Dallas, third, $28.64; Denver, fourth, $29.37; Indianapolis, sixth, $31.73; Detroit, seventh, $31.74; Seattle, $31.83; and New Orleans, ninth, $31.88.

Tax Referees to Fill Local Vacancies

State Controller Kenneth Cory has announced the appointment of 73 State Inheritance Tax Referees to fill vacancies and replace incumbents whose terms have expired or been terminated in 34 counties.

In San Diego County the new referees will be Ralph Rendon, William Mullin and Donald Glaser. Reappointed to another four-year term is Arthur Levy.

Referees, assigned by probate courts, appraise estates and determine inheritance taxes due the State. State law also sets a schedule of fees chargeable to the estates to compensate referees for services.

Each county must have at least one referee designated to serve it, and all referees must be appointed from lists of candidates qualified through examinations conducted by the State Personnel Board.

L.A. Museum Displays Apollo Soyuz Mission

What really went on when the Americans met the Russians in outer space?

A half-hour tour of the California State Museum of Science and Industry in Exposition Park can answer the question.

A model of the historic Russian/American zero-gravity space exercise is on display at the state museum.

There in the Science of Aviation Hall, the Apollo Soyuz Test Project (ASTP) has been recreated on three giant wall panels.

The 1/96th-scale models of the spacecrafts, full color illustrations and photographs of the five cosmonauts and astronauts, and an actual Russian engineer's drawing of the descent vehicle showing details of the locking devices comprise the exhibit.

An exterior profile of the two crafts is drawn in scale. On view is the entire ASTP mission flight plan showing the rocket launches, orbit insertions, docking tests, separation, deorbits and recovery of each spacecraft.

The exhibit — the only one of its kind in Los Angeles — is displayed everyday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The museum is located at 700 State dr. in Exposition Park.
